Italians Soon May Leave Spain

Diplomats Foresee
Possible Start of Withdrawal of Volunteers

Munich Result

ROME (AP)—Diplomatic circles here considered today a start toward withdrawal of Italian legionnaires from Spain was likely to result from the peace-saving conference at Munich.

Belief was expressed, however, that unconfirmed reports of immediate Italian withdrawal were premature, particularly in view of despatches from authoritative Fascist quarters that any troops so far had been ordered home from Spain.

But diplomats said it was not improbable that Prime Minister Chamberlain had found opportunity to raise with Premier Mussolini the question of the Italian-British friendship agreement. The accord has been pending, inoperative, since it was signed last Easter because Italian troops must be withdrawn from Spain before Great Britain will put it into effect.

The belief in diplomatic circles was that negotiations to hasten a settlement by the withdrawal of at least some Italian troops might come now that the chiefs of the Italian and British governments had established personal contact.

(Premier Mussolini and Prime Minister Chamberlain never had met before their talk at Munich yesterday).

The known storm dead remained at 508.

Mr. McFarland announced his suggestion had been forwarded to leaders of all Alberta political parties opposed to the Social Credit administration of Premier Aberhart.

Assessment In City Cut By $1,131,684

Reduction Equivalent
To 1 1/4 Mills in Taxable
Values for 1939

A net reduction of $1,131,684 in the 1939 city assessment was announced by G. A. Okell, city assessor-collector, today. This year the total amount on which taxes could be collected was $48,133,932. Next year the city will be able to tax $47,002,248.

Construction of approximately $600,000 worth of new buildings during the current year, prevented a further shrinkage in the net taxable assessment. Reductions made this year for the 1939 figure represent cuts made almost entirely in the valuation of buildings, including homes and commercial premises. The assessment on land is affected only to the extent of reversions which increased exemptions to the extent of $223,490, inasmuch as that amount of property came under the direct ownership of the city and is therefore not taxable.

There was also a slight reduction in other land assessments amounting to $38,404, but it made no material difference to the total figures.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES
The comparative amounts for 1938 and 1939 show gross taxable land values down from $25,216,627 to $25,178,223, while improvements have been slashed from $43,449,575 to $42,531,995, accounting for a cut of $917,580.

That left the 1939 total gross assessment at $67,710,218 against this year's $68,666,202. To the gross reduction of $953,984 was added an increase in exemptions of $175,700, making the total net reduction $1,131,684.

Actually there was a decrease in the improvement assessment exemptions for 1939 amounting to $47,790, which reduced the increase in land exemptions amounting to $223,490 to the $175,700 figure.

The net assessment on land for next year is $18,268,013 against $18,529,907 this year, while the 1939 improvement assessment is $28,734,235 against the current $28,604,025.

EQUIVALENT TO 1 1/4 MILLS
On the basis of current taxation the reduction in net taxable assessment is equivalent to approximately one and one-quarter mills.

The action of the assessor in revaluating city properties placed the net taxable assessment at a figure virtually on a par with the land assessment of 1939, prior to the big boom.

It further reflected a continued drop in assessments since the peak year of 1914 when land values were listed at approximately $90,000,000 and improvements at $26,803,940.

"FORCE COMPELLED US," SAYS SYROVY

Czech Premier Tells
His People Why
Terms Accepted

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia's soldier-premier, General Jan Syrový, in an appeal broadcast to the nation tonight, declared that "superior force compelled us to accept" the four-power Munich agreement for dismemberment of the country.

"This is the most difficult moment of my life," declared the 50-year-old general who led 70,000 Czech troops in an epic march across Siberia toward the end of the World War.

"But I have taken the decision to save life and to save the nation."

General Ludwig Krejci, commander-in-chief of the army, issued a proclamation appealing to the army loyally to protect the new state of Czechoslovakia. This followed the Premier's broadcast.

GEN. LUDWIG KREJCI

Premier Syrový said: "My duty was to consider everything. As a soldier I had to choose the way to peace."

"The nation will be stronger and more united."

"We have chosen the only right course."

"Four powers decided to ask from us the abdication of German territories. We had to choose between a useless fight and sacrifices."

"We have accepted the unheard-of sacrifices imposed upon us. We have had to choose between the death of a nation and abdication of some territories."

"We shall accomplish the conditions imposed on us. The main thing is that we are remaining ourselves and we must be united."

Chamberlain Moves to Widen Munich Peace to All Europe

Britons Acclaim Chamberlain

Premier Greeted
By Thousands on Return From Munich

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain this afternoon had a triumphant home-coming from Munich.

Cheering, excited crowds greeted him at Heston airport after his third flight to Germany to preserve peace in Europe.

He spoke to the crowd.

THANKS FOR MESSAGES

"First of all, I have received an immense number of letters during all these anxious times," he said.

"So has my wife—letters of support and approval and gratitude—and I cannot tell you what encouragement that has been to me."

"I want to thank the British people for what they have done," he said, adding he hoped the Czechoslovak settlement of the German-Czech problem would be widened into a peace for all Europe.

"This morning I had another talk with the German Chancellor, Herr Hitler, and here is the paper which bears his name on it, as well as mine."

"Some of you, perhaps, already have heard what it contains, but I would just like to read it to you." (The crowd held their breaths in which Chamberlain and Hitler declared for pacific methods of settling any German-British differences).

CROWD SINGS

He had paused to talk to the crowds despite a sudden shower that sent many scurrying for shelter. As he finished, there were shouts of "for he's a jolly good fellow."

Mr. Chamberlain then entered his automobile and sped directly to Buckingham Palace, to report to the King.

The cabinet was summoned to meet tonight to hear his account of the Munich conference.

Britain, from her cabinet ministers to her humblest subjects, rejoiced with her Prime Minister. Hours before Mr. Chamberlain's plane was expected, roads leading to Heston airport were blocked with automobiles, bicyclists and pedestrians.

In the throng was the entire cabinet, out to greet its leader on his return from the mission to Germany which he started yesterday with his ministers' send-off.

Milling in the throngs were school children waving Union Jacks.

LUTINE BELL RINGS

Lloyd's rang the famous Lutine bell in celebration of the peace settlement and sent the Prime Minister a congratulatory resolution.

A public enclosure adjoining the landing field overflowed and thousands waited outside for a glimpse as Mr. Chamberlain was driven past.

Another special enclosure was erected for dignitaries out to greet the Prime Minister. Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, weary from long hours during the crisis, was given rousing cheers by crowds in Downing Street.

500,000 Greet Daladier

By TAYLOR HENRY

Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS—Cheering crowds acclaimed Premier Daladier today as he landed on Le Bourget airfield from the momentous conference in Munich yesterday.

The Premier arrived at 3:55 p.m. (6:55 a.m., P.S.T.).

Almost 500,000 persons lined M. Daladier's five-mile route from the airfield to the War Ministry in a vast outburst of joy and relief.

As the Premier alighted crowds at Le Bourget broke through police lines and surrounded him screaming, "Peace! Peace!" Women, many of them almost hysterical, threw flowers in his path as he was escorted to his automobile by mobile guards. A military band played France's national anthem and a delegation of war orphans presented him with a bouquet of red roses.

"The negotiations certainly were difficult, but I have the deep conviction the accord which was concluded was indispensable to maintenance of peace in Europe," M. Daladier told the throng as he stepped from his plane.

"I also am certain today that, thanks to the desire to give mutual concessions and a spirit of collaboration which animated the action of the four great western powers, peace is preserved."

sons of all classes filed quietly into Westminster Abbey and Westminister Cathedral and offered prayers of thanksgiving.

There was a procession of flower bearers to the Prime Minister's residence, and thousands of letters and telegrams of congratulations poured in from all parts of the world.

After Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, and Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had visited Downing Street they walked together down Whitehall, where they were wildly cheered by a large crowd.

Mrs. Neville Chamberlain emerged from her residence at noon and was promptly surrounded by a milling, cheering throng.

London Overjoyed

By EDWIN JOHNSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Britons today walked about with a jauntier step as the pent-up tension and suspense of the long-drawn-out European crisis gave way to spontaneous relief thanksgiving that the gathering war clouds had been dispelled.

Greeted by newspaper posters and headlines such as "We have avoided war" and "Peace assured," Londoners went to work in the most jovial mood in weeks. The result of the Munich agreement was on every lip.

Instead of drawn and anxious faces, there were smiles and laughter.

Early today hundreds of personalities of the Munich meeting.

He and Count Ciano entered an automobile immediately and sped through flag-festooned streets to the Palazzo Venezia, Mussolini's office.

Cheering throngs had turned out at Florence, Trento and other cities along the route of Il Duce's train.

King Vittorio Emanuele made a special trip from his summer palace at San Rossore to Florence to congratulate his Premier. The King was waiting on the platform when the train arrived.

IN BELGIUM

BRUSSELS (AP)—The cabinet today approved immediate demobilization of Belgium's small army, which had been placed hurriedly on a war footing before the Munich conference dispelled the threat of a general European war.

PARLIAMENT OF FRANCE CALLED

Legislators Summoned
Tuesday to Hear
Daladier on Munich

PARIS (AP)—The French Government, after hearing Premier Daladier's report today on the four-power Munich accord, summoned Parliament to meet next Tuesday.

The cabinet session was held at the Elysee Palace with President Lebrun presiding shortly after M. Daladier had returned from the conference which ended the German-Czechoslovak crisis and immediate threats of a European war.

The ministers approved unanimously the Premier's report on the Munich conference. It was expected the Chamber and Deputies would be asked Tuesday also to vote approval.

SOME SUDETENS MAY COME TO CANADA

PRAGUE (CP)—Wenceslas Jaksch, leader of the Sudeten German Social Democrat Party, a dissident element among the 3,500,000 Germanic minority, said today he planned to appeal to Great Britain in an effort to see that at least part of the anti-Nazi Germans are sent to new homes in some far-away country, perhaps Canada.

Prelude to Larger Treaty, He Tells London Crowds

ANGLO-NAZI PACT

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain flew home from Munich today to vast, cheering throngs with a peaceful agreement on the Czechoslovakian problem and strong hopes for a broad European settlement as the fruits of his diplomacy.

"Settlement of the Czech problem which now has been achieved is in my view only a prelude to a larger settlement in which all Europe may find peace," he told the excited crowds that welcomed him at Heston airport.

He held up for the crowd to see, the joint declaration for Anglo-German peace he and Reichsfuehrer Hitler signed this morning in a private talk after the four-power conference had ended.

Later at Buckingham Palace in response to tremendous cheers by thousands, the King and Queen ushered both the Prime Minister and Mrs. Chamberlain to a palace balcony.

Another ovation awaited the Prime Minister in Downing Street. Speaking from a window of his office, he told the enthusiastic crowd he had brought home "peace with honor."

"It is peace for our time," he said.

MUNICH—Prime Minister Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler today signed a peace pact binding the German and British peoples to attempt pacific methods of settling disputes.

"We regard the agreement signed last night and the Anglo-German naval agreement as symbolic of the desire of our two peoples never to go to war with one another again," the agreement set forth.

"We are resolved that the method of consultation shall be the method adopted to deal with any other questions that may concern our two countries, and we are determined to continue our efforts to remove the possible sources of difference and thus to contribute to assure the peace of Europe."

At the same time Mr. Chamberlain announced the Czech government had accepted the four-power agreement for settlement of the German-Czech crisis. German troops will move into portions of Sudetenland tomorrow.

By JAMES RESTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Prime Minister Chamberlain was understood today to have forged the foundation of a four-power nonaggression pact at the Munich conference.

Informed sources believed the Prime Minister persuaded Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini to negotiate a new agreement with Great Britain and France immediately on the complete solution of the Czechoslovak problem, about which statesmen of the four countries reached an accord in Munich early today.

LOCARNO PACT

Mr. Chamberlain has tried to replace the Locarno Pact ever since that instrument of mutual security fell into disuse. His brother, the late Sir Austen Chamberlain, was a prime mover in the Locarno arrangement.

The Munich accord to allow Hitler to have parts of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland immediately and to conduct plebiscites in other parts was described here as Mr. Chamberlain's greatest political victory. Political circles, believing the Prime Minister within sight of the other goal, felt the 69-year-old statesman might retire when he achieved the four-power pact.

BRITAIN HARVESTS BIG GRAIN CROP

Wheat Production in United Kingdom
Best in Years

LONDON (CP)—While government officials proceed quietly with plans for wartime distribution of food, in case of need, Great Britain's farmers have been busy harvesting their best wheat crop in several years.

Size of the crop is encouraging to those who strongly advocate an increase in the country's home-grown food supplies. Encouraging too were figures showing an increase of 100,000 acres in the area sown to wheat during the past year.

The Ministry of Agriculture's latest estimate of the 1938 yield in 1,719,000 tons (approximately 56,727,000 bushels). Britain has roughly 1,829,000 acres sown to wheat compared with 1,732,000 acres in 1937.

The barley crop is estimated officially at 727,000 tons (approximately 30,534,000 bushels). The Ministry of Agriculture predicts an oat crop of 1,020,000 tons (approximately 60,180,000 bushels). Acreage of both grains has increased since 1937—barley from 823,000 to 886,000 acres, and oats from 1,223,000 to 1,299,000 acres.

The child population of England increased 40 per cent between 1851 and 1931.

Changes Urged in Sunday Laws

TORONTO (CP)—Sunday observance laws, passed by the federal parliament in 1906, are not in tune with modern conditions and are almost impossible to enforce, Hon. G. D. Conant, Ontario Attorney-General yesterday told the Ontario Police Association.

"People did not want to buy gasoline on Sunday 30 years ago, nor did they want hot dogs," he said. "If we tried to enforce the laws as they stand, we would win the hate and ridicule of the entire province."

Referring to Sunday observance laws, lottery laws and slot machines laws, Mr. Conant declared: "The time has come when these laws should be changed so we could enforce them with sanity."

MONTREAL GROWS

MONTREAL (CP)—The population of Montreal increased by 12,434 in the last year and that of suburban municipalities by 4,416, according to the new edition of the Montreal Directory released yesterday. The city's population now stands at 1,263,298, while population of suburbs totals 180,290, to bring the population of Greater Montreal to 1,443,588.

League Changes Treaty Position

Proposal Would Remove Germany's Main Objection to Membership

GENEVA (AP)—The Assembly of the League of Nations today accepted the principle of separating the League covenant from the Versailles Treaty.

The League of Nations was born of the post-war peace pact and the covenant—its constitution—was written into the Versailles Treaty.

Approval of separating them, coming a day after the Munich conference on Czechoslovakia, paves the way for the removal of one of Germany's main arguments against membership.

The Assembly accepted the recommendations of a sub-committee for the separation. The governments represented in the Assembly now must ratify the recommendations which were made in the form of an amendment to the covenant.

The British government had urged the change, declaring separation of the Versailles Treaty and the covenant "changes neither the permanent sense nor the spirit of the League."

HITLER'S POSITION
Nazi Germany left the League and has consistently refused to co-operate with it. Chancellor Hitler's prime objection was that the Versailles Treaty, which was imposed on Germany after the World War, was coupled directly with the covenant of the international body.

Poland and Hungary vainly opposed adoption of the report which recommended that the League be empowered to deal with "war or the threat of war" without unanimous approval of the membership. Unanimity now is necessary.

Their opposition apparently was designed to prevent the League from taking up possible war threats arising from their claims for slices of Czechoslovakia in the dismemberment agreed on at the four-power meeting in Munich.

ON SPAIN'S FRONT
The Assembly voted a resolution asking that the League Council consider the plan of the Spanish government for the withdrawal of foreign troops from both warring armies in Spain.

Eamon de Valera, Prime Minister of Eire and president of the Assembly, brought the session to an end with praise for the "statesmen who have just delivered the world from the nightmare of war."

In view of the still delicate international situation, however, the Assembly left definite closing to be decided by Mr. de Valera according to developments in Central Europe.

Welsh May Buy
St. Donat's Castle
LONDON (CP)—Decision of William Randolph Hearst to sell St. Donat's Castle has spurred Welsh Nationalists in their campaign to acquire a royal residence in the principality for the King and Queen. St. Donat's, they say, would make an ideal counterpart of Scotland's Balmoral if the proposal is accorded royal favor.

Primary reason for the Hearst sale was to start liquidation of part of the estate to provide for death duties.

A move to create a national fund to acquire or construct a royal residence was started by a member of the Colwyn Bay borough council.

O'LEARY PRAISES ACTION FOR PEACE

No Right for Empire to War Over Czechs, Says
Ottawa Editor

OTTAWA (CP)—Those who lately have been quickest to talk about fighting to save democracy are those who normally are the least concerned about it, M. Grattan O'Leary, editor of the Ottawa Journal, said in an address here last night.

Not a shred of justification was there for those who would have plunged the British Empire into war over the Czechoslovakian problem, said Mr. O'Leary. The Sudeten question was not one of democracy. It was a racial minority issue. The courage, compassion, patience and pity of Chamberlain saved the world from war over it.

With the salvaging of peace, there remained a tremendous challenge to the people of the democratic countries to make their system work more efficiently. There should be some sort of training for government as there was for professions, business and trade careers.

Mr. O'Leary said he had watched parliament work for 27 years. In that time the character of the representatives had steadily deteriorated.

Munich Peace Terms

Text of Communiqué Issued After Historic Four-
Power Conference on German-Czech Problem

Pact Compared to Hitler Demands

Fuehrer's Terms
Slightly Modified By
Munich Conference

MUNICH (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, a joyous light in his eyes, came out of the Fuehrerhaus today convinced peace was worth the price.

"It's all signed," he said. "It's all right."

A British source said early today, shortly after the conference had ended.

"It was a tragic business—like standing around a table in a mortuary and dissecting a body that wasn't there. (Czechoslovakia was not represented at the conference)."

"Yet you must remember that if it hadn't been done this way it would have been done by war. You must remember also that we are correcting a grave mistake we made at Versailles."

Following are his terse comparisons of what Hitler demanded and what he gets under the four-power agreement:

Demand—Evacuation by the Czechoslovak army and police forces and officials of a wide area of Sudetenland by October 1, without removal of any properties.

Granted—Evacuation of an area roughly corresponding to what he asked for by October 10, without destruction of any existing installations.

Demand—German army occupation of essentially Sudeten territories by October 1.

Granted—Occupation of four pieces of territory roughly corresponding to the area he drew on his own map, but he is to occupy them over a period of seven days beginning October 1 and (presumably) this is to be done without fighting. In addition, an area to be defined by the proposed international commission would be occupied by the German army by October 10.

RELEASE OF GROUPS
Demand—Discharge at once of all Sudeten Germans from the army or police of the Czechoslovak state.

Granted—Discharge within four weeks of all now serving in the army or police "who may wish to be released."

Demand—Immediate release by Czechoslovakia of all Sudeten German political prisoners.

Granted—Same, but with four-week time limit.

Demand—Plebiscite by November 25 in areas where Sudeten Germans are not obviously in the majority, voting to be carried out under the control of any international commission, settlement by German-Czechoslovak or international commission of frontier operations arising from the plebiscite.

Granted—Plebiscite in territories to be determined by the international (British, French, German, Italian and Czechoslovak commission). "International bodies" will occupy these areas until the plebiscite is over, which must not be later than the end of November.

To Prove Discoveries

TWO FOOD investigators—Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan and Margaret M. Barry, M.A., conducted feeding experiments with groups of children in Berkeley, Calif., schools. The children who ate their lunch regularly at the school cafeteria and who all showed slight evidence of "malnutrition," were divided into two groups comparable in age, weight and general condition. Each group received as part of their luncheon two 1½ ounce rolls of bread.

For one group the rolls were baked to include a percentage of wheat embryo which approximated five ounces in the week. The other group ate the usual white roll.

Those children who received the wheat embryo in their three ounces of bread daily showed greater normal gains by 50 per cent over a 30-week test period. They were taken off the embryo roll at the end of 15 weeks when the others were put on. They held their gains to the end of the test, and the second group gained as the others had done as soon as they were given the embryo ration.

This is given as a very practical demonstration of the fact that for growing children, this genetic factor in wheat is a very valuable if not essential addition to diet. Details are given in the American Medical Journal of the Diseases of Children, Vol. 39, pp. 935-947, under the heading, "Underweight Children."

MUNICH (AP)—The official communiqué issued at the end of the four-power conference shortly before 1 a.m. today follows:

Germany, the United Kingdom, France and Italy, taking into consideration the agreement which has already been reached in principle for cession to Germany of the Sudeten German territory, have agreed on the following terms and conditions governing the said cession and the measures consequent thereon and by this agreement they each hold themselves responsible for the steps necessary to secure its fulfillment.

First—The evacuation will begin on October 1.

Second—The United Kingdom, France and Italy agree that the evacuation of the territory shall be completed by October 10 without any existing installations having been destroyed and that the Czechoslovak government will be held responsible for carrying out the evacuation without damage to the said installations.

The conditions governing the evacuation will be laid down in detail by an international commission composed of representatives of Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

ADVANCE OF TROOPS

Occupation by stages of the predominantly German territories by German troops will begin on October 1. The four territories marked on the attached map will be occupied by German troops in the following order:

Territory marked number 1 on the first and second of October; territory marked number 2 on the second and third of October; territory marked number three on the third, fourth and fifth of October; territory marked number four on the sixth and seventh of October.

The remaining territory of predominantly German character will be ascertained by the aforementioned international commission forthwith and be occupied by German troops by the tenth of October.

The international commission referred to in paragraph three will determine the territories in which a plebiscite is to be held. These territories will be held by international bodies until the plebiscite has been completed. The same commission will fix the conditions in which the plebiscite is to be held taking as a basis the conditions of the Saar plebiscite. The commission will also fix a date not later than the end of October on which the plebiscite will be held.

GROUP TO MOVE

There will be right of option into and out of transferred territories the option to be exercised within six months from the date of this agreement.

The German-Czechoslovak commission shall determine details of option, consider ways for facilitating the transfer of population and settle questions of principle arising out of the said transfer.

The final determination of the frontiers will be carried out by the international commission. This commission will also be entitled to recommend to the four powers—Germany, the United Kingdom, France, and Italy, in certain exceptional cases minor modifications in strictly ethnographical determination of the zones which are to be transferred without plebiscite.

The Czechoslovak government will within the period of four weeks from the date of this agreement release from their military and police forces any Sudeten Germans who may wish to be released and the Czechoslovak government will within the same period release Sudeten German prisoners who are serving terms of imprisonment for political offences.

ANNEX TO THE AGREEMENT

His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and the French government have entered into the above agreement on the basis that they stand by the offer, contained in paragraph six of the Anglo-French proposals of September 19 relating to an international guarantee of the new boundaries of the Czechoslovak state against unprovoked aggression.

When the question of Polish and Hungarian minorities in Czechoslovakia has been settled, Germany and Italy, for their part, will give a guarantee to Czechoslovakia.

The heads of the governments of the four powers declare that problems of Polish and Hungarian minorities in Czechoslovakia if not settled within three months by agreement between the respective governments shall form the subject of another meeting of the heads of

The World's Chance

AFTER MUNICH, WHAT? THIS IS A question the nations of the world must ask themselves. It is their duty to find the correct answer if the work done in the ancient Bavarian city yesterday is to produce the sort of peace mankind craves. Well may we pause and be thankful that a good start toward a new international order has been made. Four men of diametrically opposite views sat down together. They mixed the oil of calm judgment with the water of arrogant bluster. This had been regarded as an almost impossible feat. But it has been accomplished. The bill of cost will be made out in due course. Sufficient for the moment is the promise that there shall be no war for the present over the unhappy fate of Czechoslovakia. The four men of opposite views have given their words to this effect. It would be superfluous to try to apportion the credit for this triumph of sanity and decency over madness and brutality. Nor do the antecedents of the shock from which we have just recovered weaken the tribute which all fair-minded men and women the world over will pay to the Prime Minister of Great Britain. It will be for the historian to survey and render a judgment on the moving events of these days from a perspective naturally denied to us who are so near to them.

It is permitted to us, however, to try to understand and discharge the manifold duties which the significance of these present times clearly defines. In the jubilation of the moment, moreover, it would be unfair to lose sight of the fact that a small nation whose territorial and political integrity had been guaranteed by solemn treaty has been on the auction block—the sacrificial altar, call it what you will. In the parlance of the saleroom, she has been "sold" by "private treaty," her friends, having controlled the reserve, have bought her in. To her should be paid the greatest tribute of all. From distant Prague, through agonizing weeks, the guardians of her destiny—hoping against hope that the struggles of hundreds of years for national independence and national unity would not be brought to naught—have watched the process of external and internal political erosion gradually weakening the structure they had been permitted to erect. They have given up much in the sacred name of peace. Yet even the staunchest patriots of the war-born republic will think their sacrifice well worth while if the ultimate reward, in which what is left to them of their country will share, shall be a new order.

What will this new order be? To peaceful, honest folk it is simple, or should be. A brave people have made a great sacrifice under pressure from their friends—pressure urgently exerted to prevent war. It stands today in all its naked virtue as a triumph which has lifted mankind out of the depths of doubt and fear. A part of that triumph, however, will be claimed by the heads of two European states—not, by any means, by the majority of their "suppressed" compatriots—who have been permitted to prosecute policies diametrically in conflict with all that is fair and decent in personal, national, and international dealing. They must be compelled to mend their ways. The heads of the democracies must take the lead in any measures essential to convince them they have more to gain by emulating the spirit which Czechoslovakia has exemplified than by tactics which have branded them as guilty disturbers of the peace in the eyes of all the world. The value of the Peace of Munich, therefore, will increase or decrease according to the measure of the will that shall be expended to preserve it and extend it.

The re-establishment of peace and its guarantee of permanence can be accomplished only by an international conference which must be actuated by genuine desire and intent to make future wars impossible. Easier said than done? Quite so. Less than a week ago war was considered virtually inescapable. It was a case of the immovable object and the irresistible force. Start from Munich. Set the machinery in motion. Begin on moral rearmament in the home, on the streets, anywhere. Try to make peace a popular topic of discussion. It may be difficult to produce enthusiasm for the unspectacular. Yet never since 1918 has there been a more propitious time to try it than now. It would be one way to demonstrate gratitude for the show of sanity and decency which prevailed in the ancient Bavarian city yesterday. The new order which we try to visualize must take root in the individual mind. Upon the depth of those roots will be determined the success, or failure, of the abolition of some of the causes of war, of which the following can be included: The greed in armament production; the selfishness of extreme economic nationalism; the uneven distribution of the necessities of life; the intolerance of ignorance; the fashionable propensity to bow down to pretension, and the parrot-like cry of "what's the use"? There remain other causes too numerous to mention but not too numerous to be discarded.

Good Work

MUCH REMAINS TO BE DONE, OF course, before Prime Minister Pattullo will be able to announce the date on which work will be commenced on the highway through British Columbia to Alaska. But it is of vast importance to the future of this province that Prime Minister Mackenzie King has assured him a Canadian commission will be appointed to collaborate with a similar United States body—for the creation of which Congress at Washington already has passed legislation—on the preliminary investigation into the details involved in the proposed project.

On several occasions in these columns we have set forth the practical benefits which must accrue to British Columbia in particular and to Canada and the United States as a whole from the operation of a continuous highway from the state of Washington, through this province, to Alaska. It will mean a growing volume of tourist travel from year to year—an industry whose value under many heads ought soon to outstrip in financial return alone every other major activity, and it could be made to do so sooner than most people realize if only its possibilities could be impressed upon the public mind, if it were recognized as the one industry in the world which returns a percentage of profit so vastly in excess of the ratio of capital outlay as to be almost staggering. This fact cannot be gainsaid.

It ought not to be necessary to repeat what Prime Minister Pattullo has said dozens of times. But it should be understood once and for all that the form of co-operation which it is expected will be possible to arrange with the neighboring republic on this matter will not mean, in the slightest particular, that the operation of the highway will be any more under the control of the United States than is the general business of British Columbia controlled by the holder of a provincial bond.

Should Be No Contest

IT IS TO BE HOPED THE LIBERALS OF the federal riding of London will take Prime Minister Mackenzie King's advice and not run a candidate against Hon. R. J. Manion, newly-elected leader of the National Conservative Party, in the by-election which is to be held on November 14. What action the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation may take should be regarded by the government forces purely as a matter concerning that party alone.

Dr. Manion already has demonstrated his readiness to co-operate with the cabinet of Mr. King in any way which may seem desirable in the present complicated state of affairs in Europe. It is to be noted, too, that the Conservative leader was not influenced in the least by the verbal hysterics of a small section of the press of Canada which figuratively foamed at the mouth because Mr. King did not issue daily statements that this country still was a part of the British Empire and all that that partnership entailed.

Nobody will welcome Dr. Manion to the House of Commons again more cordially than the Prime Minister himself. Both have been warm personal friends since the days when the new Conservative leader subscribed to the Liberal faith. Both are mutually appreciative of one another's Canadianism and conception of public duty. All genuine adherents to the Liberal philosophy will applaud the Premier's friendly gesture to the Leader of the Opposition-elect.

It's getting to be a drawback not to be a minority this year.

A motorcycle show in London is to have exhibits of walking equipment. We are still of the opinion that legs are here to stay.

A clergyman says the world today is like a cubist painting. Why, of course; something made up entirely of conflicting blocs.

A DEMOCRATIC RETREAT

Westbrook Pegler, Columnist

To be perfectly truthful, Britain, France, and this country are suffering more from humiliation and shame in the case of Czechoslovakia than from sorrow at the passing of an experimental republic. All three are deeply humiliated because an enemy who had his nose rubbed in the dust in 1918 and in the years ensuing has come off the floor with a crazy look in his eye and stood down those who licked him.

The democracies are ashamed because the one whom they lately delighted to kick around and then to pity has looked them in the eye and made them flinch. This country cannot escape a share of the same feeling because the U.S. established an export trade in democracies and then pretended to be just waiting for a street car when Hitler asked point blank whether any one wanted to make anything out of it as he wiped out the last democracy east of the Rhine.

Czechoslovakia was an awkward experiment at best, containing in a small country, intended as a model many of the very elements which made Austria-Hungary offensive to the pestiferous idealists that the Americans were in the war days. By sheer force of idealism and wishing, the conquerors thought to extinguish or compromise the beloved hatreds of groups of people who had taken turns oppressing and being oppressed by one another for hundreds of years.

It just didn't work and the odds are that if Hitler and Germany hadn't broken up Czechoslovakia at this time, some other combination of events would have broken it up in the future. From the idealistic standpoint, France behaved quite badly after the war in her impoliteness to the Germans in the occupied country, but the truth is that the Germans would have been just as sore and eager to avenge a licking however kindly they might have been treated.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ORIENTAL CULTURE

IT IS ONLY WHEN I GO to Kamloops that I truly appreciate the ancient civilization of the Orient. It is in Wing's eating place that this civilization reaches its highest expression and it is an expression which you are not likely to forget.

Wing gave a banquet for me in Kamloops, a select affair from which delegates of the Conservative convention and others of that sort were strictly barred. It was a feast such as, in olden times, was placed before the gods of Olympus, but they, of course, didn't have Wing to cook for them.

Words are poor things to convey the flavor of soups full of bamboo shoots, mushrooms and weird exotic growths from China; of stews compounded of chicken, pork and curious animals and insects captured in the days of Confucius and seasoned for a thousand years, just so that Wing can serve them to us in Kamloops; of ducks cooked in ginger and coconut and soya bean sauce and a hundred other startling spices; of fruits picked from ancient trees in the walled gardens of Chinese villages. And the whole flavored with the tart sauce of Wing's personality, seasoned with his wit and brought to the boil with his merry laughter.

Up the street was the Conservative convention, a dull clamorous affair like the conventions of all political parties. Down here was the philosophic calm of old China. It made us feel infinitely superior to the poor Conservatives who have to live on such crude stuff as roast beef and dead fowl. So I never leave Kamloops without a feeling of new respect for the Chinese.

HORRID THOUGHT

DRIVING HOME from one of the two recent political conventions in the interior—and I will never reveal which one, lest I be considered partizan—a group of eminent British Columbia politicians had the misfortune to run over a skunk. In Vancouver an outrageous journalist said he thought it was entirely appropriate and perhaps inevitable that politicians should come home from a convention smelling of skunk. But, he added: "How much worse it would have been had the poor skunk come home to his innocent family smelling of politician!" Journalists in Vancouver have no honor.

OLD THOUGHT

SOMEHOW I NEVER CEASE to be amazed by the extent of this interior country and our ignorance of it; and, of course, I never cease to bore you with repetition of the fact. Every time I come up here I discover some new and heavenly place that I have never heard of before; some new lake, river, road or trail. Why, you could put the whole of Vancouver Island (with the greatest respect to it) in a small corner of this region and you would never be able to find it again. It would be quite lost. And for every lake we have, there are ten here all teeming with fish.

Yet coast people still insist on going southward instead of eastward. They actually prefer Hollywood to the Drybelt. They would rather see Clark Gable in some stuffy restaurant where a meal costs $5 than to catch a trout on a fly hook costing only 15 cents. They would rather fish for celebrities than for rainbows. It is an unnatural appetite, savage and primitive, and I hesitate to think of a country inhabited by such creatures.

If we could only turn our people eastward instead of southward we might be able to build a nation of this after a while. We might be able to make people realize what a land we own here and how unworthy we are of it.

We go along day by day taking everything for granted, feeling subconsciously that we deserve all this. We haven't even appreciated it or felt glad to have it. Most of the people of the world would feel that they had been delivered from the slavery of the ages if they could settle down in this land. Dictators would fight world wars for it, if they knew how good it was. Most of the great migrations of history have been in pursuit of far less desirable places. But we take it all as a matter of course, and most of us won't even bother to go and look at it. We prefer to go down to Hollywood in the hope of seeing Mr. Gable dancing in a night club.

One of these days, if we don't look out, we shall lose this country, simply because we have gone to sleep and forgotten about it.

A NEW KING COAL

From Cowichan Leader

Cowichan is not a coal district, although there are traces of it here. Vancouver Island, however, has large supplies, and anything that can be done to bring back the coal trade to its former importance will be of great benefit to the island as a whole.

A correspondent informs the Leader that the island's coal is best adapted to steam purposes, and points to the measures being taken in Britain to replace imported fuel oil with domestic coal for the firing of battleships, as an indication of what can be done to benefit home industry.

Under the pressure of competitive fuels, inefficiency, smoke and dirt, so long as associated with coal, are disappearing with modern methods. Automatic stokers, properly adjusted, give greater efficiency than old coal-burning methods, and practically eliminate smoke and dirt, says our correspondent.

Coal is one of the earth's most wonderful products and there is no reason why modern science cannot give it its rightful place as the basis of a major industry. Unfortunately very little seems to have been done in British Columbia to this end.

France's Blunder

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

In New York World-Telegram

ON MARCH 7, 1938, the German army marched into the Rhineland and reoccupied territory which had been neutral since the Treaty of Versailles. The area was without garrison or fortifications. It was intended to be a territorial hostage to peace.

As long as Germany remained peaceful nothing would happen. But if she took aggressive action against Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland or any other neighbor, France was in a position to re-enter the Palatinate and again take over the bridgeheads along the Rhine.

By reoccupation Hitler violated both the Treaty of Versailles and the Pact of Locarno. So for 48 hours Europe teetered on the edge of war. France had a right to send in troops and Britain was in honor bound to support such a move.

But the British government, headed by Prime Minister Baldwin and seconded by Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, was afraid of war. Britain was not ready. And the French government, under Premier Sarraut, hesitated to take the risk alone.

Even so, France came within an ace of marching. The Premier favored partial mobilization and several of his ministers, including Flandin and Mandel, were with him. But General Gamelin of the War Office told them that without Britain openly on their side he would have to have at least 400,000 seasoned troops. That many were not then available without calling out reserves.

And this under the circumstances he was a little afraid to do. The tide of pacifism was running pretty strong in France. Labor was restive, radical groups were scattering anti-patriotic propaganda and there might be a general strike. Thus France might expose herself to a terrible danger.

So the big moment passed. What neither France or Britain knew, until too late, was that if France had sent in three or four army corps the Germans would have withdrawn forthwith.

The story told me at Berlin was that General von Fritsch had been vigorously against the re-occupation, which, needless to say, was Herr Hitler's idea. I was told that practically the entire general staff was so opposed to the move that they informed Hitler they would resign en bloc if he persisted. They said France would certainly march and the Reich was far from ready for war.

Hitler, according to the story, pooh-poohed the danger. He contended that Britain would be against action and that the French would not move without the British. He was so certain he was right that he is understood to have given the general staff a written order, in advance, authorizing immediate withdrawal if the French marched into the Rhineland from the other side.

Thus Hitler got away with his first big bluff, and the consequences have been falling thick and fast on Europe ever since.

CHANGED LIVES

To the Editor—"Faith without works is dead," and so is lip service. Oxford Groups are proving this eternal truth in our modern age to the satisfaction of thinking people. Changed lives are happier lives and can be brought about by daily carrying out the simple Christian duty of hearing and heeding God's voice, even as our Saviour when on earth did not His own will but the will of Him who sent Him. In other words, Oxford Groups plead with us for practical Christianity.

"Thank God for the Oxford Groups," say thousands of us who realize that we have not been full-time servants of the Lord.

MENTAL HOSPITALS
To the Editor:—The press is currently carrying the account of a probe in Ontario. The detention of sane people in mental hospitals is one of the most foul and damnable crimes against the citizen; that such a charge should be made proves that there is either criminal connivance on the part of officials, or gross incompetence of the medical examiners concerned.

I would ask Mr. Pattullo if his conscience is clear as he reads this extract from Mr. Hepburn's statement:

"I have reason to believe that lots of sane people are railroaded to mental hospitals and kept there under pressure to serve the interests of those responsible for their improper detention. I cannot think of anything more inhuman than to keep a person in his right mind, cooped up—often for long periods—with others who are undoubtedly insane."

Has Mr. Pattullo made any inquiry about Essondale?

I myself know of two sane people in that institution, who are being kept there to serve the malice of certain people. And how many more are there?

One woman with a nervous breakdown was railroaded to Essondale because she complained of ill treatment and that she was being experimented upon. The doctors said she had illusions, but there was no illusion about the bill presented, namely $250 for one month—$90 for the room and the balance for drugs. One hundred and sixty dollars for drugs might very well create the suspicion that the experiments were being made. The young woman declared that the needle was constantly applied until her arms were sore. Apparently not being able to afford such a bill, she was rushed away to Essondale.

Here is an extract from a letter written by another inmate, a girl in her early twenties:

"There are patients with various diseases and there is no telling when one may catch something. I work hard here and get nothing for it. This is no place for a healthy person. I am beginning to feel desperate, there are so many left here, year after year, because no one bothers about them, and it looks as if I was going to be here the rest of my life. Oh, for God's sake, if you love me, do get me out of here while I am still sane and have my health."

The full letter was shown to a local doctor who declared that such a letter could only be written by a sane person.

Let us finish with the profession of liberty and seek to promote justice. Democracy is by no means the form of government above all others, as long as such social crimes are permitted to go unchecked.

Nazi Germany does no worse than this.

BUSES VS. TRAMS
To the Editor:—We were all pleased to read the report of the light and power investigation. But there are many ways to look at the proposal:

First—There is the great objection to the noise the cars make; some say much of this can now be got rid of by rubber blocks built into the wheels or frame, same as in other cities.

Second—Street cars are the safest form of transportation in foggy weather, when many people leave their motors at home, and the street cars generally come off best in an accident.

Third—Seeing the state of the world today, is it safe to rely on gas only for transportation purposes, knowing it is the destruction of all great storage tanks and oil wells the enemy makes for?

Fourth—Can we be assured of a six-cent fare at all times, seeing how gas prices may soar in war time? We could depend on tram fares remaining the same, unless Jordan River runs dry.

Fifth—I consider the trams with their dome tops more healthy than buses, with the fumes they give off outside, and at times inside. The smell is bad for the public health, especially when caused by any congestion of such heavy buses.

Sixth—There is an old saying, "Never put your eggs all into one basket," or "Never swap horses when crossing the stream." Until things are more settled in our times, I think we should retain the dual system of transportation in our cities, at least for another seven years. Remember, a bus company may be able to give the public better-upholstered vehicles, but you find the track for them, and the trams have to find their own. Trams have not paid much this last 25 years, with so many persons having their own cars. Still they are the safest and most reliable system. Could the noise only be eliminated they would be far more popular.

RADICALS AND PLUM TREES
To the Editor:—"Radical—A person who thinks you are an enemy if you won't help him destroy the plum tree that 'feeds' (?) both of you."—Victoria Daily Times, August 12, 1938.

RADICAL
The radical is not destroying your old plum tree.
But he can show you the reasons—
—if you can see—
That your old plum tree has had its day;
You know there are many it does not pay.

The branches on your old plum tree were so hard to reach,
The radical decided to plant himself a peach—
No strain on a ladder of human rungs it needs,
And all able-bodied humans are expected to pick their own "feeds".

Why keep on pruning and watering your old plum tree—
Keeping us all in a state of misery—
When you could be helping to make us all free
By assisting us to cultivate our young peach tree?

WANTS MORE LIGHT
To the Editor:—Municipally-owned utilities have had a varied career on this continent, depending on the advancement and determination of the progressive elements in a given community. Residents of Lincoln, Neb., were recently treated to the fourth cut in electric power rates since 1913. The reduction, slightly more than 10 per cent, will whack nearly $112,000 off Lincoln's annual light bill. Residential consumers who use $100 k.w.h. a month, instead of plunking down $9 a month as they did in 1930, will pay only $3.50—40c less than in July. The cut, initiated by the municipal plant, which serves only a fourth of the city's 16,000 power users, brought Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power, united subsidiary, promptly into line.—(Federated Press.)

Similarly, Hastings, Neb., with a municipal plant serving all citizens, plays $3.30 per 100 k.w.h. Syracuse reduced its rate five times in 23 years (15c a k.w.h. in 1918, now less than 6c). Seventy-four municipal plants tell the same story.

Why was the Victoria city's light plant closed up? Why did the B.C. Electric make a present of about $1,200 to the city about eight months ago? Why is the Campbell River power project not proceeded with according to the franchise granted the Vancouver Island Light and Power Company? Why all the secrecy regarding the abandonment (or otherwise) of the street car system here? Why is there no agitation for municipally-owned and operated light and power for Greater Victoria? Some more light is needed. HANS KROEGER.

Seek Control Of Taxi Fares

Municipal Act Amendment to Regulate Rates, Aim of Operators Here

Support of Victoria taxi operators' request to the Provincial Government for amendment to the Municipal Act, which would permit municipalities to control and fix rates for taxi hire was sought by W. T. Straith, M.P.P., from the Saanich Council last night.

Mr. Straith, appearing before the council on behalf of the Taxi Operators' Association, asked Saanich to join with Oak Bay and Esquimalt in support of the organization's request. The latter two municipalities were yet to be approached, he said.

Mr. Straith explained that Victoria already had control of taxi rates under its private act, but this power had not been vested with other municipalities under the Municipal Act. The legislation would not bind the council to act, but merely give them the power if necessary.

It had been considered necessary to increase taxi rates in Greater Victoria because of wage and hour legislation laid down by the Department of Labor for taxi drivers, Mr. Straith said. Companies had found it necessary to raise rates to meet the increase cost, but he assured that any increases would not be unreasonable.

Storm Deaths in Towns Near Naples

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—A torrential rain during the night caused at least three deaths and considerable property damage in small towns near Naples.

25 Years Ago

SEPTEMBER 30, 1913
(From the Times Files)
Today being the last day upon which the rebate on taxes under the general rate can be allowed, there was an enormous rush of people at the City Hall.

There have been 21 alarms turned in at the fire hall this month, the only serious fire attended being that outside the boundary at the plant of the B.C. Pottery Company, when damage amounting to over $100,000 was caused by an outbreak.

Demonstration of the steady progress of building in Victoria is given in the September returns, which at noon stood at $233,805, $3,316,960, being the figure for the year. The total value of permits for September, 1912, was $377,540, but conditions were altogether exceptional then and it was not to be expected that the high figures would be retained.

Credit Body Plans Annual Dinner Here

All retail merchants of Victoria will be invited to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria which will be held next Tuesday evening at 6.30 in the Empress Hotel.

The dinner will mark the opening of the association's winter season during which meetings are held bi-weekly.

Guest speakers for the occasion will be W. C. Mainwaring, Vancouver, general sales manager of the B.C. Electric for British Columbia, and E. DeWitt, Seattle, president of the Associated Retail Credit Managers of the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. Mainwaring will speak on "Present Trends in Merchandising" and Mr. DeWitt on "Two Values to Retail Credit." A program of entertainment will be provided and tickets may be secured from the association office or executive members.

Conservatives Elect

Robert H. Hiscocks was re-elected president of the Ward Four Conservative Association at the annual meeting last night.

J. H. Bothwell was returned as secretary, and executive members named were: Mrs. E. Haslam, E. E. Richards, M. I. Jamieson and A. Lancaster.

Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., addressed the meeting and urged the provincial government to undertake a scheme of hospital insurance rather than health insurance, as formally placed before the Legislature if the Health Insurance Act was revived. Hospital insurance would assist the hospitals as well as the people, and Dr. Hunter strongly urged its consideration.

Enemy From Within Destroys Nations

By ELMER S. KNIGHT

THERE ARE DEGREES in dictatorship just as there are degrees in democracies. Indeed, though placed in opposition, the one is but a degree of the other. In the last decade there had been a convergence of the democratic road with that of dictatorship until it is not an easy matter to tell where comparative democracy ends and dictatorship begins. One reason for this is the growth of fascist or reactionary parties inside the democracy which forces the democracy to use non-democratic suppressive measures in order to survive. Another reason is because the democracies have found it necessary to arm themselves against possible aggression by the dictatorships. And with the tendency to arm, came the tendency to centralize authority, and democratic administration suffered accordingly. Again, authority has occasionally developed the subtle technique of concealing dictatorial leanings behind laudable objectives. During the great depression, Britain set up a national government which had the power, and threatened to become, near Fascism. And this by reason of the British Parliament passing the Incitement to Disaffections Bill which was, in fact, a literature search bill. It lies inactive today but is ready to complete an authoritarian government.

As a matter of fact, there is nothing objectionable or evil in a dictatorship when it is set up to deal with emergencies for a specified period of time. More than once dictatorial powers granted in a crisis have saved a democratic state. But that which they have in Europe is not dictatorship. The Italians, and Germans, failed to foresee how far the revolutionary nature of Fascism would go. When their dictators crushed and destroyed the means for removing them from power, it became not dictatorship, but Despotism, and the avowed object of despotism is to destroy the democratic system.

FEW NATIONS have ever been destroyed solely by the enemy from without. Destruction has been made possible by a sickening of national character within. The extremists and aberrations such as German and Italian racial theories—the propaganda which keeps the emotional side of the people roused in the so-called dictatorships, is an abnormal condition. It implies a transition from a natural to an artificial state of government. Such inflation of human ideals and emotions must surely break when the nation comprehends that deeds alone count in all phases of human endeavor whether individual or collective, and that propaganda deceives no one. It is certain there will come a time when the goose-steppers of Hitler and Mussolini will realize that these same rulers, whose credo is based on hatred and greed, lies and deceptions; these demagogues who act with utter disregard for treaty obligations, are not supermen, destined to lead the nations to everlasting glory, but are, in fact, the champion dissemblers of all time and their totalitarian governments are the disease of doomed nations.

Welfare Work Helped Many

Community Chest Drive Figures Show How Money Was Distributed

Information compiled by supporters of the Community Chest Drive shows how the fund of $86,125 was spent.

The cost of the campaign was 2.2 per cent of the total funds gathered.

The administration cost came to 3 per cent. Character building took 20.8 per cent. This includes the work of the Boy Scouts and the Y.W.C.A., whose efforts are for body building, vocational work and the supporting of Christian principles.

Health work took 14 per cent. The work of the V.O.N., St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, the Columbia Coast Medical Mission, the Red Cross Society, and the St. John Ambulance Association were all included in this category.

Child welfare work cost 8 per cent of the total. The branch active in this work was the Children's Aid Society, working in co-operation with the Juvenile Court and the Industrial School.

General welfare work, which cost 14.3 per cent, was looked after by Sunshine Inn, the Citizen's Recreation Room, the Oak Bay and Esquimalt Friendly Help Association, and the Saanich Welfare Office, the auxiliary to St. Vincent de Paul Society and the John Howard Society.

Family welfare, campaigned under the direction of the Family Welfare Association, took 24.7 per cent. This association works in conjunction with the Provincial Government, the Adult Psychiatric Clinic, and the Child Guidance Clinic.

The work of the Women's Workroom, the Red Cross Workshops and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, cost 5.5 per cent.

The remaining 7.5 per cent was absorbed through cancellation of subscriptions through death or other causes; uncollectable pledges, unforeseen expenses, and payments to agencies which became necessary throughout the year and were not included in the budget.

High School Club Officers Named

Election of officers, enrollment of members and discussions of plans featured club meetings at Victoria High School yesterday afternoon in the regular club period.

Because of the large turnouts to the various clubs last week it was found necessary to limit students to membership in one club instead of two as before. This plan worked very satisfactory yesterday and with membership down to about 40 in most clubs they are ready to go ahead with the program for the term.

Two new clubs were added to the list and received large turnouts. The handicraft club under Miss H. Sargent enrolled 35 members. They will start in on basketry next week and expect to elect an executive soon. Needlecraft under the direction of Miss M. Clay was the other new club.

Forty-eight students registered for the journalism club under Mrs. H. Hodgson and plans were discussed for the publishing of a school paper. The group was divided into several divisions, each to handle a section of the paper.

Colin Campbell was elected president of the geology club under W. E. Cook. George Butterworth was named secretary. Forty members turned out.

C. L. Campbell, sponsor of the boat club, had such a large turnout that he will divide the club into two sections, meeting on alternate Thursdays. Grade 9 and 10 students will comprise one section and Grade 11 and 12 students the other.

Nearly 40 students registered for the camera club, which will be held under the sponsorship of H. Gilliland. Next Thursday the students plan to bring their cameras and snap some pictures.

Beta Delta, boys' public speaking club, will again be under the supervision of W. L. Hardie. Donald Fields was elected president, N. Codville, vice-president, and D. Campbell, secretary-treasurer.

New Jobless Class Formed

Authorities Establish Test Group for Certain "Unemployables"

A number of so-called unemployable cases for which the city bears the major part of relief allowances will be given an opportunity to re-establish themselves as employable, Alderman S. H. Okell, relief chairman, informed the City Council yesterday.

A new category of "test cases" had been set up by the provincial authorities to cover some of the men and women listed as unemployable. Under the new regulations, if they can secure at least three days' work during each of the next two months, they will be reclassified, the alderman stated.

The announcement was the outgrowth of a conference yesterday between E. W. Griffith, relief administrator for the province; E. G. Snowden, city relief officer, and himself. At the meeting the officials considered the 123 cases whose unemployability classification had been appealed by the city.

They had been re-allocated in several instances, the alderman said. Of the 123, a total of six had secured employment by themselves, another six had been declared employable, five had been put in the partially employable class and 23 had been listed in the test division.

The work on which the latter must prove themselves can not be city work, the alderman said.

Sick Pay Plan Is Suggested

Definite Policy to Deal With Ill City Employees Advocated

The city's legislative committee will consider a 1922 by-law setting forth the rate of sick pay allowed to all members of the various departments as the result of a motion presented yesterday to the City Council by Alderman Archie Willis.

Alderman Willis referred to the question he had raised at a recent meeting on the policy to be adopted in dealing with employees removed from their work by illness. He cited the old by-law which set forth a general scheme of sick pay. Under it, an employee with less than five years' service with the city would secure one month's full pay in the event of prolonged illness in any 12 months. Those with between five and 20 years' service would receive two months' full pay and four months' half pay in any 12 months. Those with service of over 20 years would be given three months' full pay in any 12 months and six months' half pay during the same period.

M. F. Hunter, city clerk, stated the city comptroller had not been in a position to adopt a definite policy along those lines since the legislation was of an optional nature and not compulsory. Under it, the official explained, each case was determined on its own merits.

Consideration was given suggestion to superannuate a member of the fire department whose health has been severely impaired. Full sick pay was voted for him for the month of September.

Salt Spring School Lease Is Approved

A special general meeting of the Islands Farmers' Institute was held in Mahon Hall, Ganges, on Monday to ratify an agreement between the board of directors and the trustees of the united school area on Salt Spring Island.

Under the agreement the directors will lease certain portions of land for the use of school children for a term of years. R. O. King, president of the institute, was in the chair. The meeting gave almost unanimous approval of the action taken by the directors.

Metchisin

The annual meeting of the Metchisin Dramatic Club was held Tuesday evening in the Community Hall, when officers elected were as follows: President, A. D. Ellwood; secretary, Mrs. H. M. Bolton; committee, Mrs. R. S. Peacock, Mrs. A. D. Ellwood and Miss Joan Pears. Activities of the club for the winter season will be announced at the next meeting of the committee.

BAD BREATH

The old theory that bad breath arises in the mouth is misleading. Bad breath invariably arises from the stomach. Lypol Anti-septic cleanses the mouth, and when swallowed, neutralizes fermentative processes in the stomach, the real source of bad breath. Satisfaction or money refunded by all Vancouver Drug Co. #### Natural Girl Acts Way She Looks

By MARIAN YOUNG

The Natural Girl doesn't think the world owes her admiration. She's willing to earn it. And she does—not by posing all over the place, looking and being bored except when she's the center of attention—but by being a reasonably well informed, interested and interesting person who can contribute something to any gathering.

A Natural is a wonderful listener. But an intelligent listener—not a blank-faced, unresponsive one. Furthermore, she doesn't think it dull to listen to or talk to another woman. Sincerely liking women is part of her natural charm, and the fact that they like her, too, gets her more invitations to more interesting parties than any glamour girl ever had.

Her manners are simple, sincere, healthily natural.

She doesn't accept invitations simply because she hopes to meet people she will like at their houses. She doesn't go out a second time with a man she can't tolerate just for the sake of going somewhere. She knows better than to try to impress any man by telling him about the exciting date she had last week or by intimating that she is gloriously popular, sought-after creature.

She does not, in the old Glamour Girl manner, keep others waiting so she can make an impressive entrance. She's as punctual about her engagements, business or social, as any considerate, successful male executive.

However, considerate though Miss Natural is, she never exudes "charm." She knows that an unmitigated yes-woman can be as boring as a yes-man. And get just about as far. She's a gentle person who seldom loses her temper and never is rude to any one, but she isn't namby-pamby. She can prove a point without seeming unfeminine. And she doesn't resort to the kind of craftiness which has gained women the reputation of not being as trustworthy frank as men.

Typical of her kind are some of the newcomers of John Robert Powers' famous list of photographers' models. Although strikingly beautiful (and how could they help but know it?) not one of them believes that she can get by on looks alone. Being easy to work with, able to remain good-natured when tired and having a sense of humor are part and parcel of the 1938 model's bag of tricks.

Furthermore, a great deal of a model's success depends on her ability to retain her individuality. She, like Miss Natural, doesn't let herself become a type. A pleasant difference between Natural Girls and the now out-moded Glamour Girls is that one can claim true membership in the former category without looking, acting and thinking like all other Natural Girls.

Glamour Girls resembled one another all too closely. With her pale, rouge-less cheeks, bleached hair cascading over her shoulders or else dragged down about her face in Page Boy effect, claw-like, scarlet finger nails, painfully thin figure, affected mannerisms and a vacant stare, even a novice could spot a Glamour Girl a mile away.

The Natural Girl's claim to glory depends on no such artifices. She may be tall, short, plump or slender or wear her hair up or down. But she's amusing without being sarcastic or catty, can win a man's admiration without turning on oceans of sex-appeal, realizes that her mind is something to be used, is gay, friendly, healthy, happy. In other words, she's fun to have around. She's a Natural!

TOKIO—Every bride's school throughout Japan is filled to overflowing just now in view of the country's call for prospective and suitable wives for the emigrants to Manchukuo.

Fine ways to top off long winter days was the keynote of the happy evening which marked the opening of the winter activities at the "Y" last night. The program took the form of a "fall commencement" and the college theme was carried throughout.

The evening began with a "general assembly" during which Miss Margaret Ryan introduced the various "professors." A lively sing-song was then conducted by Miss Dorothy Beech with Miss Margaret Pringle at the piano. After the preparation of "college yells" by the four "classes," the mock "track meet" took place and each class sent representatives for each event. Those taking charge of the various classes were Miss Elsie Peters, Miss Alvin Brewster, Miss Kitty Cameron and Miss Frances Wood.

Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary, brought greetings and spoke briefly concerning the interest and educational groups, such as the hobbycraft group, the home nursing and the leadership training group. Information regarding the self-governing clubs was given by Miss Dorothy Beech, the Girls' Work secretary and included the Senior Business, Junior Business, Y-Owens, Versatiles, Live Yers, Blue Triangle, Y.T.A.'s and the Junior Hi-Y clubs. A hearty invitation to join any one of these groups and clubs was extended by the secretaries.

A special feature of the evening's entertainment was the talk on the forthcoming "Y" conference to be held at Spokane, which was given by Miss Theodora MacLagan of London, England, who was a delegate at the recent World Council Conference at Muskoka, Ontario.

At the close of the evening opportunity was given for registrations in the winter groups. All clubs begin the week of October 3 at 8 p.m. with the exception of the Hi-Y clubs which will meet at 7.30.

One-color Wedding For Smart Bride

Miss Prunella Stack, leader of the Women's Health and Beauty League, who is marrying Lord David Douglas-Hamilton on October 15, has planned a single color scheme for her wedding. Parchment velvet will make her own gown. It is designed on princess lines with leg-o-mutton sleeves and a plain neckline. With it she will wear a large pearl cross which used to belong to her mother.

Her bridal retinue will consist of eight small girls and two grown-up bridesmaids. Two of the children will hold up her train, which is five yards long and cut in one with her dress. The bridesmaids are having gowns of parchment velvet opening over underskirts of lace. The child attendants are to wear ground-length Empire dresses.

"LUCKY" BLUE

The idea that a bride must have a touch of blue somewhere in her wedding scheme was given prominence in an original way.

Miss Eileen Gowers, daughter of Sir Ernest Gowers, chairman of the coal commission, who was married recently, had an all-blue wedding bouquet. Small flat eucharistic lilies, rather like narcissi, were colored blue by a secret process, which is neither painting nor dyeing. They were made into a shower bouquet and toned with the bluish tint of Miss Gowers' bridal gown.

Big Program By Famous Artists

Joan Peebles, the famous Canadian operatic contralto, will be presented in recital Tuesday evening at 8.30 in the Empire Theatre. Mr. Theo Karle, an American tenor, who is acclaimed as a great interpreter of song, will be the assisting artist.

The Victoria Musical Art Society, who are sponsoring this concert, feels it will be an outstanding concert from an artistic point of view, and they are hoping to pack the Empire Theatre in order to pay worthy compliment to these great artists.

The program is of high standard and wide appeal, including gems from the classical composers, from the operas, a group of modern numbers and a group of folk songs.

ST. PAUL'S A.Y.P.A.

The regular meeting of St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. was held Wednesday. The president announced that breakfast would be served after Holy Communion at 8 a.m. next Sunday. W. Barclay, P. White and Margaret Evans will be delegates to the provincial conference. A "Newspaper Night" was held after the adjournment of the business period.

Word was received in Victoria this morning by Mrs. E. M. Whyte of the passing away in Halifax on September 20 of Mrs. J. W. Campbell, a former resident of this city for many years before moving to Halifax to reside. The late Mrs. Campbell spent several weeks here in the summer of 1937, renewing old friendships and leaves many friends in this city to mourn her passing.

On Wednesday evening the home of Miss Mary Bell, Dalhousie Street, was the scene of a surprise shower for Miss Audrey Bickford, an October bride-to-be. The guest of honor was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts. These were concealed in an attractively decorated hatbox and super-sized chocolate box, topped by a corsage of roses, which Miss Bickford removed and wore during the evening. So crowded has Prague, Czechoslovakia, become with loyal Czech families who fled from their homes in Sudetenland towns, that the giant Masaryk Stadium, where the great annual Sokol gymnastic spectacles are held, has been turned into a relief station. In the photo above, Czech women and children, refugees from the guerilla raids of Konrad Henlein's Nazi "Free Corps," are shown receiving cooking utensils and other supplies from Red Cross relief workers.

Handcraft Exhibit At School Drew Many Visitors

A successful exhibition of Canadian handicrafts was staged in the Sir James Douglas School yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. The many visitors included grown-ups and children, who found suggestions for many interesting as well as profitable hobbies in the varied demonstrations and displays.

Rugs of various materials and designs attracted much attention. Mrs. J. Erickson demonstrated the making of the old colonial scroll and figure type of hooked rug, and Mrs. Clifford Johns showed rugs made from home-dyed British Columbia wool, hooked in Indian designs and colors. Mrs. Johns had used natural vegetable dyes to create the beautiful colors which she uses in her rugs. A third exhibit was an interesting adaptation of the old hooked rag rug, using Persian and Arabic designs and colors.

Mrs. J. L. White, president of the W. I. Weavers' Guild demonstrated weaving, and a number of the members of the guild were represented in a beautiful display of their work. Mrs. H. E. Beyer, of the Danish Weaving House, exhibited some beautiful Spanish lace design table mats and new designs of "Botanical Garden" weaving, and the interesting Navajo and Chimejo weaving, which she studied recently in Colorado and Arizona. Mrs. J. Findlay gave a spinning demonstration on an Icelandic type of wheel, using wool grown at Lake Hill.

Mrs. Wm. Peden, president of the Victoria Women's Institute, demonstrated the glove-making at which she is an adept. A beautiful tapestry by Mrs. A. S. Christie, in the "tree of life" design, was much admired by the visitors. Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan also gave a spinning demonstration on a big wool wheel and explained the various processes.

Students of the Academy of Useful Arts initiated those interested into the mysteries of smoking and fagoting.

Several of the boys and girls who attended the exhibition tried their hand at the table loom weaving, and were delighted to find it so easy and fascinating.

W.C.T.U. Home Held Pound Party

Michaelmas daisies, helenium and other autumn flowers were used in decoration of the W.C.T.U. Home for Women, Ida Street, on the occasion of the annual pound party yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. William Grant, honorary president and only living member of the first board of directors, which was organized 49 years ago, and Mrs. D. C. Sabiston, president, received the many friends who called during the afternoon. Donations were received by Mrs. F. C. Laing and Mrs. E. S. Ard, and Mrs. O. M. Brown. Mrs. John Hall and Mrs. Wm. Russell were hostesses in the tea room. The tea table, centred with a bowl of pink and white anthurium, was presided over by Miss Agnes Spencer.

War and Bizarre Clothes Related

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Maid hats and the jitterbug craze are demonstrations of the public's subconscious anticipation of trouble in the world, movie stylist Orry Kelly theorized today.

Wars and threats of war have a direct effect on women's fashions, Kelly said, and sometimes, he added, feminine styles predict the possibility of war months ahead of actual news about it.

"Women who are afraid to think what may happen, hide their concern behind those hats and suddenly elaborated clothes," Kelly said.

"It was that way just before 1914, when smart women wore the most bizarre clothes in history. When the war ends or rumors of possible war subside, clothes go back to strict simplicity."

"Fantastic dances—these jitterbug jamborees—are as much an indication as the 'absolutely ridiculous' hats that there is trouble ahead."

New York Wedding

City Accepts Elevator Bid

Council Approves Gillespie Lease Offer With Option to Purchase

The City Council yesterday accepted the bid of the Gillespie Grain Co. Ltd. for the rental of the Ogden Point grain elevator on a lease basis which called for an annual payment of $30,000 and gave J. Gillespie, head of the independent company, an option to purchase at a price of $300,000 at the end of the 12 months.

The agreement set payment by the company at $1,000 on October 1, $3,000 on November 1, $4,000 on December 1, $5,000 January 1, $8,000 February 1, and $9,000 on March 1, making the total rental the stipulated $30,000 for the year.

In the event of a federal government order directing the grain flow from some port other than Victoria, Mr. Gillespie may call for a release from the agreement upon payment of $2,500 a month from October 1 to a date 30 days after his application for severance of the contract.

The agreement further gives him a preference for the renewal of the lease at its expiration if he does not wish to purchase the plant but desires to continue using it.

Following repair of the building, tentatively fixed by the city building inspector at a cost of between $2,000 and $2,500, the Gillespie Grain Company Ltd. will be required to maintain it in good condition, barring reasonable wear and tear, acts of God or destruction by the enemies of the King.

Following reading of the lease yesterday, Alderman James Adam asked for an explanation in dollars and cents.

It meant Victoria would receive a rental of $30,000 a year, Mayor Andrew McGavin stated.

Alderman W. L. Morgan asked for figures on the returns from the elevator when it was last running and was told he could secure them from the man in charge of the elevator.

His question over the option-to-purchase clause, which he contended protected Mr. Gillespie but not the city if the value of the structure should rise beyond the stipulated $300,000, brought a statement from the mayor that interests which had valued the structure had placed its worth below that figure.

REPAIRS ESSENTIAL
Alderman Archie Wills asked if the terms were the best the city could get. He was happy to see the elevator operating again, he said, adding the industrial committee had considered going into the grain business but had learned such action would necessitate expenditure by the city of $1,000 a month. Repairs listed for the elevator would have to be undertaken to protect the city's interests, whether or not it was used, he said.

In reply to Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, J. Burden, in charge of the elevator, stated machinery in the plant had been in good running order when it was last used. He was unable to say what effect disuse would have on the equipment.

Alderman S. H. Okell expressed appreciation of the deal made, stating he thought it a good proposition.

Alderman John A. Worthington called for minor points to be ironed out, including limitation of the expense to which the city would be put in making repairs and a release from responsibility for possible snow damage to the roof and from deterioration in the water pipes.

Mr. Gillespie stated the mayor had run him higher than he had intended and had made a very good deal for the city.

Alderman Ed. Williams presented a motion calling for authorization of the agreement and congratulating the mayor on the way the deal had been handled.

Provision was made for expenditure of necessary sums on the repair of the structure, the expenses being met by the lands department, to which the revenue will be allocated.

Worker Is Tops In Russia—If He Is Stakhanovite

By PETER STURSBURG

THE STAKHANOVITE worker is top of the Soviet social order. He or she is given write-ups in the factory magazines, feted at dinners and banquets. His picture appears on the notice boards and sometimes in the papers.

Most people by now know how a miner of the Donbas named Stakhanov discovered a method of alternating his work so that he tripled and even quadrupled his production. The moguls of the Five Year Plan heard of this and realized there was dynamite behind the idea of every worker becoming efficiency conscious. Terrific propaganda built this unknown man into a mighty hero, and the idea swept the union.

Every factory now lists its Stakhanovite workers, boasts of its Stakhanovite workers, every state and collective farm, too. In some of the factories I visited, over a third of the workers were Stakhanovites.

The Stakhanovite worker does not necessarily earn more than other workers. Most jobs in the U.S.S.R. are on piece-work basis, which means that everyone has the same chance, his wages depending on how hard he or she works.

A Udarnik, or shock worker, who is a worker who keeps up to plan may earn just as much as a Stakhanovite or even more. Then what is the difference between these two types of workers?

Well, a Stakhanovite has contributed to increasing production, while a Udarnik has not.

It may be a very humble contribution such as a better method of wrapping goods or a new way of using one's hands at a certain job. Still, if it increases production, he or she becomes a Stakhanovite. His or her salary rises because of the increased production but the salary of all other workers doing the same job rises as well, though they never had the idea.

However, the Stakhanovite gets honor and honor means a lot in Soviet Russia. Honor also brings privileges such as theatre tickets and even motor cars.

I was told that the average salary of a Stakhanovite is about 800 roubles a month, though there are some who earn over 2,000 roubles a month.

The importance of the Stakhanovite movement cannot be minimized. It has put efficiency into an industry which sadly needed it. Due to the application of Stakhanovite methods some Soviet processes are now at a higher level than their counterparts in the United States.

One-fourth of all the motor fuel in the United States is used by farmers.

Letters to the Editor

KEY TO DIPLOMACY

To the Editor:—The key to the present diplomacy of Mr. Chamberlain, as indeed to all British diplomacy, lies not in Central Europe but in the east. For by the logic of economic forces, there is in that diplomacy a necessary principle of continuity. It must inevitably follow the same lines, until Britain changes its economic system and ceases to be a predatory capitalist power.

Whenever Great Britain has gone into a European war she has done so in order to attack a colonial rival; and on almost every occasion she has emerged from it with an adequate parcel of colonial loot. While the aggression of Hitler does not extend to a demand for the return of the German colonies we can show an Olympian about-face overnight to changes in the European frontiers, provided always that this aggression is directed towards Moscow, and does not extend to control of the highways to the plunder grounds of the east.

Soviet Russia, by her very existence is a protest against imperialism. There is between the Soviet Union and the British Empire an irresolvable clash of ideologies, and conflict is certain in all the border lands where these two influences meet. However correct the attitude of the Soviet government itself, Russian Communist influence and teaching must inevitably percolate into our exploited dependencies.

Now that Czechoslovakia has yielded before a show of force, and France isolated at last from the Soviets, the diplomatic strategy of Chamberlain is clear enough. Bribery, it seems (in the shape of 13½ tons in gold) is to follow bullying, and the lesser states, if all goes according to plan, will, as a result of the betrayal of the Czechs, be pulled into the western group and completely detached from Russia. And then—there you are. The Chamberlain-Cliveden strategy is completed. The Soviet Union is finally isolated, and the united west, "the solidarity of Christian civilization," is ready to "stem the most sinister force in history," to dictate terms to the Soviet government and to make Europe and Asia safe for imperialism. Now it is one thing to plan strategy on paper, and another thing to work it out in practice. Things are apt to go wrong.

It would seem as if the disturbing influences of the politicians of the Anthony Eden type have been eliminated and a cool-headed professional was now in charge. We are back to the era of diplomacy seeking the traditional ends of British Imperialism by the use of its traditional methods.

The romantic school has been displaced by the despicable, and now "This land of such dear souls, this dear, dear land, Dear for her reputation through the world, Is now leas'd out—I die pronouncing it—Like a tenement or a pelting farm; England bound in which the triumphant sea, Whose rocky shore beats back the envious siege Of watery Neptune, is now bound in with shame. With inky blots, and rotten parchment bonds, That England, that once was wont to conquer others, Hath made a shameful conquest of itself."

F. A. GRAHAM.
1148 Yats Street, Victoria.

"NOT WORTH FIGHTING FOR"

To the Editor:—We notice that Sir Bruce Bruce-Porter made the statement in your paper, Sept. 19: "I don't think the Sudeten Germans are worth involving Europe in war." We have heard it similarly said that the Chinese are not worth fighting for.

But the issue before mankind today is not whether this or that area or people are worth fighting for, but whether the basis of all law and order among men is worth being maintained. How long are we to continue buying off gangster-dictators as they buy off kidnappers in the civil life of the U.S.? The result is the complete crumbling of the very foundations of world society and the inflaming of the law-breakers to further law breaking. As is now being said in Czechoslovakia, if there was no security in a treaty arrangement made 20 years ago, how can there be any reliance in one made now?

The Czechs became masters of Bohemia as early as the fifth century. In order to offset the power of the nobility one of their kings in the 13th century encouraged German immigration into towns. These immigrants doubtless were the first Sudeten Germans. Later the Czechs came under Austrian domination. But the dream of their nationality survived, especially in their literature, and reached at last after the war a concrete expression under their heroic President Masaryk. No wonder his son, ambassador to Great Britain, collapsed recently in London when he anticipated the abolition of his paternal republic.

Certainly our democratic diplomacy and prestige have reached a new low, the lowest we have known in our history. No one will question what Sir Bruce Bruce-Porter also says, that "Germany would not have a chance against the combined forces of Great Britain, France and Russia." Nor can anyone doubt that if there was real sincerity and determination in our democratic governments, such a united front against lawless aggression could be made that no dictator would dare oppose.

The methods of appeasement now being used, abrogating covenants and pacts, which even the ancient Romans held to be sacred, can never produce international security. Peace can only be founded on a basis of righteousness.

City Council Briefs

A letter from the director of housing for the federal Department of Finance, directing the council's attention to the necessity of passing a special by-law if it wished to apply a section in the Housing Act which would permit builders of new small homes under the plan to take advantage of the clause covering payment of taxes, was referred to the lands committee by the City Council yesterday.

The city engineer will convey to the district engineer of the federal Department of Public Works the city's wishes in respect to the installation of ladders on the breakwater, as the result of a motion presented by Alderman Ed. Williams and carried by the council. The official will also be asked to improve the approach to the breakwater.

A permit for the operation of a second hand store at 636 Johnson Street was granted to the New St. James Ltd.

A stenographic report on negotiations between the mayor and his fellow members of the city public utilities committee with B.C. Electric officials in Vancouver next Tuesday was asked by Alderman Archie Wills. The alderman requested that copies of the complete report be supplied to all aldermen.

Removal of two trees from the boulevard in front of 127 Government Street, to allow the owner of that property to gain access to a garage, was approved by the council on the recommendation of the parks committee. A second suggestion from that group regarding construction of a new pound building at a cost of $629 was referred to the public works committee, with the proposal that it consider adapting part of the old pumping station structure for that purpose.

Chinese Soldiers Prime Fighters

Each Month New Levy Of 80,000 Enlists Against Japan

HANKOW, China (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has developed a far-flung recruiting machinery for translating China's vast manpower into fairly well-trained soldiers rapidly enough to replace the frightful losses of the war against Japan.

China's army casualties have risen close to 1,000,000. Yet on many fronts General Chiang has produced larger armies than those previously smashed by Japan's ruthless war machine.

It is a one-sided contest, China's lightly armed numbers against an invader using nearly all the modern panoply of war. But out of it has developed an increasing respect, from foe and neutral alike, for the Chinese soldier. He has proved himself a fighting man whether crouched behind a machine gun or swinging a broadsword.

He has refused to be disheartened by his great handicaps—inadequate armaments, lack of organization and medical service and meagre food supplies.

The orders that are making soldiers of China's millions come from Chiang's headquarters but the actual work is done in the provinces.

Plans call for enrollment of all able-bodied men between 18 and 45, except those already in government service or in military schools, in the people's militia.

CHINA'S LARGEST ARMY

This is the first step in mobilizing the largest army China ever has massed. Members of this corps live at home, varying their ordinary lives only with several hours' daily training in the rudiments of military drill.

Next, volunteers from the corps, or those who can be spared by their local communities, are promoted to the standing Militia Corps of Righteousness and Bravery. Here they break with civilian life, learn the use of arms, wear uniforms and assist the local police in law enforcement.

From the Corps of Righteousness and Bravery, militiamen pass into the regular reserve. Each province selects by lot every month 10,000 men from the reserves to be drafted into the regular army for service at the front.

Thus Chiang receives 80,000 men a month, fairly well trained, besides the divisions placed at his disposal by provincial generals and war lords.

THEY FIGHT ON LITTLE
No other modern army would be expected to fight under conditions that confront the Chinese soldier.

Take food, for instance—two meals a day, at 4 a.m. and 8 p.m. Usually a meal is just a bowl of rice and some vegetables, often only the rice.

There are no modern field kitchens, not steaming cauldrons—just young "cook boys" to prepare the food and get it into the front lines.

More often than not, the Chinese soldier goes into battle with no organized medical service behind him, no field hospitals or first aid stations. He knows the wounded may be left on the field to die.

In much of the fighting the Chinese soldier has had poor protection from his own artillery or aviation. Rarely has he had the comforting sight of his own big guns and planes moving up.

He is best in close-quarter fighting, quick, agile, strong, courageous and, man-for-man, a match for the Japanese. His physical endurance has surprised military observers.

Given any sort of leadership, foreign military observers agree, the Chinese soldier fights coolly, dispassionately and intelligently. Seldom, it has been observed, does he forget in retreat to gather up the rifles and equipment of the dead.

By PETE SALLAWAY

NOW THAT DON BUDGE has kept the Davis Cup, highest award in the world of amateur tennis, in the United States for another year, we want to make some interesting statements on this so-called team competition. Instead of an international trophy in tennis the Davis Cup has for years been nothing more than an individual prize.

Look back over the record since the rise of Bill Tilden. Without fail, the country that has had the best singles player in the world has either won or successfully defended the mug. As long as Big Bill was top man of all the courts the United States had no trouble in holding the cup. But when he began to weaken a trifle at the knees, due to advancing age, the cup was carried over the seas to France.

It was Rene Lacoste who was top man then. Lacoste would have held the cup safe in France for years except that ill-health forced him from the courts. But when he retired from international competition the new head man was his countryman, Henri Cochet. It looked like the United States was due to regain the trophy when Ellsworth Vines crashed the tennis spotlight, but Vines was uncertain and erratic at times, due to the type of slambang game he played.

When Vines was unable to settle down, Fred Perry sprang into prominence for England and became the No. 1 man in the tennis world. Vines moved into the professional ranks and the cup remained in England until Perry, too, decided to take the cash and let the credit go. Then the highest honors in amateur tennis passed to Don Budge. The Davis Cup passed along also. Don is still the head man and the cup is still in the United States.

There has been no great complaint about the way things have been going. Though the results of the Davis Cup campaign in any given year can be forecast with considerable accuracy as far as the finals are concerned, the spectators see an international clash with the best amateur tennis player of the world dominating the contest. Presumably that is always worth the price of admission.

But if it is real team competition in mind, they will have to take steps. On the evidence offered, it would seem that the great team trophy of tennis, the Davis Cup, is really an individual trophy. That one man can win it is more than possible; it has become almost monotonous. Of course, they have to put an extra man out there in the doubles play and, now and then, with everything under control, the top man doesn't have to bother about the doubles competition.

If they really want a team trophy in tennis they will have to devise some other scheme than this Davis Cup program. They might borrow an idea from golf, though practically every tennis official shrivels up or pulls back in annoyance when it is hinted or suggested that they order these things better in the golf realm.

Still, when they have a team competition in golf, like the Walker Cup matches, no individual can come close to dominating it. Incidentally, even as an individual trophy the Davis Cup seems slightly superfluous. The Davis Cup competition doesn't decide who is the best tennis player in the amateur ranks; it merely confirms it. Except when the monarch is tottering on his throne and the sceptre may be about to pass, most of the fever and excitement and drama of competition are in the earlier rounds, where lesser groups are striving to climb near the top.

No Disruption of English Or Scottish League Programs for Tomorrow

LONDON—Soccer games in England tomorrow will be run off as scheduled, it was announced yesterday. Football authorities, however, will be guided by the War Office in their attitude during the international situation.

It was announced earlier yesterday service teams in the English Rugby Union will not play. The order affected scheduled matches between Devonport Services and Bristol and Guy's Hospital and United Services.

Six Tottenham Hotspur players have answered the call for service with the anti-aircraft searchlight section of the Royal Engineers, but the club will not be weakened materially. Only one player, J. Hill, has figured in the league team this year. The Spurs, in the second division, have an away match with West Bromwich Albion.

Rochdale, northern section, third division club, will be weakened for tomorrow's game against Hartlepool United. Griffith, outside-left and member of the naval reserve, has left the team to join the depot.

Leader of the first division with Derby County, Everton will field the same eleven that started the season. They face the third place Liverpool club at home.

The County has a comparatively easy match with Blackpool at Derby. Blackpool shares 11th position with Leeds United and Leicester City, five points behind the leaders.

ARSENAL VS. SUNDERLAND

Champion of the league in 1937, Arsenal has six points, gained from two victories and two draws in seven games. Sunderland will provide opposition this week at Roker Park.

Preston North End, euphoric, is at home to Manchester United, from the second division, while Aston Villa, also advanced to major-league company, entertains Portsmouth.

Blackburn Rovers, second division leaders, have a tough proposition at Millwall, in third place, three points in arrears. The second-place Fulham squad, one point behind Blackburn, visits Manchester City. Manchester was demoted this year from the first division and now is near the bottom of the league.

Deadlocked at the top of the southern circuit with Swindon Town, Northampton goes to Aldershot, erstwhile leader now in third place with Brighton, Newport and Crystal Palace. Swindon is favored to defeat Port Vale on the latter's ground.

No. 1 position in the northern section was switched during the week when Oldham Athletic triumphed 3 to 1 over Accrington Stanley to leap ahead of Crewe Alexandra and Barnsley. Oldham has 13 points and Crewe and Barnsley 12. All three will play at home this week. Oldham entertains Chester, Crewe will be invaded by Southport and Barnsley meets Bradford City.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE
GLASGOW—Scottish Football League matches scheduled tomorrow will be played, it was announced yesterday. But, as in the English League, soccer officials will be guided by the War Office in their attitude during the international situation.

The league, with a surprise leader in Queen of South—a team that narrowly escaped demotion to the second group last year—has been notable for upsets this season.

In early weeks of the campaign, Clyde swept all opposition aside to hold leadership, but has failed in its recent games, and now is in a fourth-position tie with Aberdeen. Celtic and Glasgow Rangers, the "old firm" of Scottish soccer, are in second position, one point behind the Dumfries team.

The Palmerston Park squad will be watched closely at the week-end in its game against Third Lanark. Shooting for its eighth victory in nine starts, the team will play at home against Third Lanark.

Celtic, last year's champion, has a comparatively easy contest against Albion Rovers at Coatbridge. Rovers, up to major company this season, have won only two games in nine attempts.

Deadlocked in second position with the Celtic, Glasgow Rangers are at home to Hibernians. In fourth position with 12 points each—three down from Queen of South and one less than Celtic and Rangers—Aberdeen and Clyde will play at home (Turn to Page 14 Col. 8)

An appeal for referees to handle games in the first division of the Victoria and District Football League was issued yesterday by Axel Kinnear, secretary of the local committee of the British Columbia Football Commission. Anyone wishing to referee these games is asked to phone G 2167.

Injuries Hit Grid Outfits

Leading Eastern Clubs Play Tomorrow Without Stars

TORONTO—The east's major football training camps re-assembled field hospitals today as coaches worried about getting injured stars into shape for a season which opens officially in another week.

Probably the biggest name player who has been hobbling on the sidelines is hefty Bob Isbister of Toronto Argonauts, the Dominion champions. Isbister has an injured knee. Argos also have Bud Lewis, snapper, and backfield Johnny Munro on the injured list.

McGill Redmen, in their exhibition contest tomorrow against Royal Military College of Kingston, Ont., will be without Murray (Sleepy) Telford, giant middle wing, and captain Lou Ruschin, an inside wing.

It has not been decided yet whether Don Mumford, crashing halfback with University of Toronto seniors, will be with the Collegians when they play for the Toronto City championship tomorrow against Balmy Beach of the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Mumford is suffering from a stomach ailment.

Greyhound Breaks Own World Record

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Greyhound, E. J. Baker's six-year-old filly, lowered his own world trotting record for the mile to 1:55 1/4 in a race against time here yesterday.

Best previous time for a trotted mile was 1:56, which the Grey Ghost from Baker's St. Charles, Ill., stables set here in 1937 and equaled last Friday.

The mark was only a quarter of a second off the new world record of 1:55 for both trotters and pacers set Wednesday by Billy Direct.

Cup Competition At Macaulay Club

YANKS' PAIR OF ACES—When the New York Yankees go after their third straight world baseball series championship on Wednesday the two pitchers seen above are certain to play a leading role. Lefty Gomez, left, with five straight world-series victories to his credit will go to the mound in the opening game to be followed by Charlie (Red) Ruffing, right, with a record of two wins and one defeat.

Yanks Have Hurling

Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing, Two of Greatest Pitchers in Major Baseball, Ready for World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees, seeking to break all precedent by winning their third straight world baseball series, will go into action against either Chicago Cubs or Pittsburgh Pirates next Wednesday firing the same double-barreled shotgun that has mowed down the New York Giants in the last two autumn baseball arguments.

First, manager Joe McCarthy will explode pitcher Vernon (Lefty) Gomez at the National League batters, and then he will pull the other trigger, Rufus (Red) Ruffing. If the enemy survives the twin blast and the mopping-up operations of assorted other Yankee pitchers then Gomez and Ruffing will be fired again.

That about sums up the Yanks' pitching strategy. In Ruffing, who has won 21 and lost seven this season, and Gomez, with an 18-12 count, the champs own a pair of the greatest flingers in the game today. Gomez has won all five world series games he has started. Ruffing has won two and lost one.

Neither the Cubs nor the Pirates boast such a brace of hot shots, though both have good pitching and the Cubs figure to do a lot of damage with Bill Lee and Clay Bryant if they qualify for the big doings. Lee with 22 wins and nine losses and Bryant with 19 and 11 have been pitching phenomenal ball during the Cubs' stretch drive. Only thing they are bound to be getting tired, and if the National League race is not decided before Sunday they will go into the series wobbling.

around like sleep-walkers. They are the only sure bets the Cubs have, notwithstanding Dizzy Dean's good showing against the Pirates three days ago.

PIRATES HAVE THREE

The Pirates own three top pitchers in Bob Klinger, Jim Tobin and Russ Bauers, a useful game-saver in Mace Brown, and valuable supporting strength in Cy Blanton, Red Lucas and Ed Brandt. It probably is the best balanced staff of the lot, yet it lacks a really great pitcher or one with world series experience.

Baseball men figure that the Cubs staff would stand the best chance of stopping the Yankee sluggers, providing Lee and Bryant get a little rest before the series begins.

On the whole, though, the vote must go to Gomez and Ruffing. It is believed that Johnny Murphy, demon relief pitcher, will start the third game for the Yankees if Monte Pearson still is ailing.

A comparison of the rival catchers is elementary. The Yankees have Bill Dickey, the best catcher in baseball today and perhaps the greatest ever. He is hitting at a .315 clip, has smacked 27 home runs and has knocked in 115 runs in 129 games.

Gabby Hartnett, who has caught and managed the Cubs from fourth place to the brink of glory within two months, is a 274-batter who has hit nine homers and driven in 57 runs in 86 games. Al Todd, the Pirate backstop, has cooled seven homers and nudged 74 runs across while compiling a .294 mark in 128 games.

B.C. Women Third

Place Behind Ontario and Quebec in Interprovincial Team Golf at Ottawa; Mrs. E. E. Jackson Best Scorer

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ontario foursome of Toronto women de-throned Quebec yesterday as women's interprovincial team champions of Canada and won the Royal Canadian Golf Association shield for the third time in five years.

Ada Mackenzie's magic putter lost some of its charm and she took an 82 on the second round of the 36-hole medal match—nine over her three-under-par 75 for the first round—but Ontario put together an aggregate gross score of 668, two strokes better than the Quebec foursome.

Miss Mackenzie's sensational first-round gave the Ontario team a four-stroke lead after the first 18 holes Wednesday and enabled it to snatch the victory, even though it was outscored 334 to 336 yesterday afternoon. On the first round, Ontario had 332 and Quebec 336.

British Columbia was third with 721 and Manitoba fourth with 724. An interprovincial team composed of four western players was fifth with 739 and a Maritime team last with 790. With a total 36-hole score of 155, Miss Mackenzie was the medalist, with Mrs. W. G. Fraser, member of the Quebec team, runner up with 162.

Mrs. E. E. Jackson of Victoria, member of the British Columbia team, and Mrs. Douglas Laird of Winnipeg, one of the Manitoba foursome, led the westerners with 173 each.

Mrs. R. W. Renwick of Vancouver strung along with the best and finished with 175. Marg Eason, 17-year-old Rose-town, Sask., youngest competitor in the tournament and member of the interprovincial team, carded

SELECT TEAM

OTTAWA—A Canadian team of five women golfers was named last night to compete here tomorrow against a British team in an international match.

The team was chosen from golfing stars who competed this week in the interprovincial team match and who will enter the Canadian women's open starting Monday. Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, outstanding player of the Ontario team that won the interprovincial team match, along with Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen and Mrs. E. H. Gooderham, both of Toronto and members of the Ontario team, were named.

The other two members are Mrs. A. B. Darling of Montreal and Mrs. W. G. Fraser of Ottawa, both members of the Quebec team which was dethroned by Ontario as interprovincial team champions.

Budge Advances

LOS ANGELES—Don Budge moved into the quarter finals of men's singles in the Pacific Southwest tennis championship yesterday, defeating Leonard Schwartz of Australia, 6-2, 6-3. Adrian Quist of Australia, expected to meet Budge in the semi-finals, got over Tom Chambers, Los Angeles, 6-1, 8-6.

HI GINNY WINS

TORONTO—Hi Ginny, speedy three-year-old owned by N. McQueen of Vancouver, captured the Waterloo Plate at Woodbine race track yesterday by romping home first in the sixth race. Winnipeg's Lawrence Dupre piloted Hi Ginny over the six furlongs, in 1:14 4/5.

Young Women Golfers Play

Seven Starlets Taking Part in Canadian Championships at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Youth is having a fling at big-time golf here during the Canadian women's championships and seven golfing starlets from six provinces are matching strokes with the veterans.

Margaret Eason, 17-year-old competitor from Rosetown, Sask., is the "baby" of the tournament players in the interprovincial match concluded yesterday.

Paddy Arnold, 24-year-old Calgary golfer, likes to wear green, but she carries a lucky rabbit's foot to be on the safe side. After mastering badminton, skating, diving and swimming, she took up golf five years ago, and this year won the first provincial tournament she entered. A secretary during the day, she divides her after hours between golfing and riding. When winter comes her leisure time is spent on the badminton courts and the ski trails at Banff, Alta.

Lillian Boyd of Vancouver is 23 years old and graduated this year in history and psychology from the University of British Columbia. She doesn't believe in family games on the golf course. "It doesn't work," she said. Although her father is her strongest supporter, their games together are few and far between.

Recreation Classes To Open Here Soon

The Provincial Recreation fall classes for men and women will open on Vancouver Island shortly. This was indicated last night when a mass meeting of 200 Victoria youths was held in the Memorial Hall to witness the first showing of a recently-completed film depicting the organization's activity in Vancouver during the 1936 season.

The meeting opened with a series of gymnastic demonstrations on the stage, including men and women's fundamental "keep fit" exercises, which stressed the desirability of regular exercise and training as an integral part of health and happiness.

The lengthy film illustrated the mass training of gym leaders from B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan. This rally was held for the purpose of training group leaders for this year's classes.

Classes will be held at the Central Junior High School, the Lake Hill Community Hall, Macgill Hall, North Saanich, Brentwood and Sooke. The centre offers a complete routine of gymnastics for both men and women. Notification of opening dates for the classes in the various centres will appear in the Times and the Colonist.

FOURSOMES AT OAK BAY CLUB

Annual Competition Will Open Next Month; Entries Close Oct. 13

Entries for the annual Calcutta foursomes at the Victoria Golf Club will close at 2 on October 13, when the draw will be made.

The first round must be completed by October 23, second by October 30, third by November 6, semifinals by November 13 and the final by November 20.

Competitors will be divided into two classes, A and B, according to handicaps. Partners will be drawn so that an A player will be paired with a B player and the couples so drawn will be drawn against each other to play off.

The combined handicaps of each couple will be divided by four and the result, expressed in holes, will be the handicap allowed. In a match the lower shall be subtracted from the higher handicap. In case of a halved match it shall be played again unless the handicaps are equal when it shall be necessary to play one or more holes only.

Prizes will be awarded to the winning couple and the runners-up. All matches will be 18 holes. Members desiring to enter will please sign the list on the notice board at the clubhouse or phone the secretary or professional.

Fish.

It was announced that the season's play would open tomorrow. Any person wishing to join the club is asked to communicate with the secretary.

The financial report showed the club to be in good standing.

It looks as though they'll have plenty to say in the National Baseball League race these next four days.

The Pittsburgh Pirates lost another to the Chicago Cubs yesterday, a 10 to 1 beating that set them 1½ games behind the league-leading Cubs. The "jitter-bucs" go into a four-game series with the Reds at Cincinnati, a series that holds their last chance of the pennant.

At the same time the Cubs will be playing three games at St. Louis. If the Cubs win all three, the Pirates can't catch up. If Chicago drops one and Pittsburgh wins all four of its starts, including today's double-header they'll win by a single percentage point.

The Pirates must be wishing these were the peaceful Reds of other years. Instead it's a club that has climbed from eighth to fourth in one season, a club with a McCormick, a Vander Meer, a Lombardi, a Derringer.

The Reds are bound for big things in 1939. Apparently they have come up with one of the best young first basemen of the last decade, Buck McCormick. Manager Will McKechnie thinks they will be even better next year—and the other clubs thought they were good enough back in June when they were dominating the flag flight.

At any rate the Reds hold the Pirates' destiny today, Saturday and Sunday.

VANDER MEER WINS

The Reds got into shape for the Pirates yesterday by beating the Cardinals 7 to 4. Johnny Vander Meer chalked up his 14th win of the year as Ernie Lombardi collected a double and a single to regain the batting lead. The Boston Bees' Danny Macfadyen gave the Brooklyn Dodgers nine hits and won the first game of a double bill, 2 to 1, but the Dodgers came back with an eight-run second inning and took the nightcap 8 to 6. The New York Giants, starting to hit again, pounded out 13 hits and beat the Phillies 9 to 2.

TOWN TOPICS

A workout of Spencer's football team has been called for Sunday morning at 10.30 at the Athletic Park. All players and others interested in playing for the team are asked to turn out.

The first of a series of regular weekly C.C.F. discussions on current events, will be held tonight at Room No. 9, Arcade Building, at 8. W. B. Caird leading. "The European Crisis" will be the topic for discussion.

Suffering from a broken leg which he received in an accident at Cameron's Mill this morning, Stanley Woloski, 2832 Douglas Street, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in the C. and C. ambulance. He was attended by Dr. F. M. Bryant.

Miss Margaret Rodgers suffered injuries to her shoulder and face which required hospital treatment when she fell out of a truck driving along Cook Street yesterday afternoon, according to a police report. Miss Rodgers was driving with William McAllister of the Royal Dairy, and she was reported to have fallen out when the door of the truck opened.

An appeal by N. W. Whittaker, K.C., on behalf of Oriental clients who were refused permission to build two greenhouses on Gordon Head Road, near Ruby Road, was referred to the municipal solicitor by the Saanich Council last night. Mr. Whittaker claimed there were no grounds for refusal as the application did not come within the zoning by-law.

Bob Simpson, 15, Viaduct Avenue, Saanich, suffered an injured knee and shock in an accident on Douglas Street, near Queens Avenue, this morning, a police report stated. Riding a bicycle the youth was reported to have been towing on a truck driven by Fred White. After being rebuked by Mr. White for his action the youth was turning away from the truck into the middle of the road and in doing so turned his bicycle into the back of a car driven in the same direction as the truck by Harold M. Diggon. Dr. R. C. Newby was called and after examination at police headquarters ordered the boy's removal to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Limited, $19,971; Joseph Nickson, $20,490; H. J. G. Morgan, $21,071; Turley Bros., $21,264; and Baynes and Horie Limited, $23,487.

The contract will be awarded shortly.

Today's Baseball

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were swept nearer elimination in the National League pennant race today by gaining only an even break with the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader. The Reds took the opener, 7 to 1, behind Paul Derringer's five-hit pitching, and Russ Bauers came back with a four-hitter in the nightcap to hurl the Pirates to a 4 to 2 victory.

Thus the Pirates must take their two remaining games, and hope for the Chicago Cubs to lose, in order to win the championship.

Bauers allowed two hits in the second inning and two more in the eighth in chalking up his 13th win of the year in the nightcap. His mates collected only seven hits off Whitey Moore, but one of these was Arky Vaughan's homer in the fourth.

Bogus Cheque Charge Heard

Sidney A. Green in City Police Court On Three Counts

Trial of Sidney A. Green on two charges of false pretences and a third of driving dangerously, in the City Police Court this morning before Magistrate Henry Hall. The hearing was adjourned to Monday.

The most serious of the three counts is that of obtaining a Chevrolet coupe from Wilson and Cabellu Limited by passing a worthless cheque. He is also charged with obtaining $15 from W. & J. Wilson by the same means.

John A. Neary, salesman at Wilson & Cabellu, testified this morning Green had agreed to purchase the car in question and had given a cheque for $500 drawn on the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Parkville, and also made out a note for the $295 balance on the car.

Mr. Neary testified Green had told him he was the engineer at the Qualicum Beach Hotel and had been employed there for some time.

In cross-examination Green asked Mr. Neary if he (Green) had been drinking at the time he made the purchase.

"You had not been drinking, but you said you had been on a big 'foot'. You were all right that day," Mr. Neary replied.

"That's what you think," said Green in a barely audible tone.

The hearing was adjourned to bring as a witness another employee of Wilson & Cabellu, who was involved in the sale. The other charges were also put over until Monday.

Green sought to have the trial completed today, and said he would admit having made out a worthless cheque on the Parkville Bank, where he had no account, and would also admit having had the car since the last time Neary saw it.

HEAVY RUSH TO PAY CITY TAXES

Members of the city assessor-collector's staff worked under pressure today coping with the rush of taxpayers anxious to meet their 1938 obligations prior to the application of a 1 per cent penalty on current taxes next Tuesday.

Payment of the 1938 amounts actually falls due tomorrow, but three days' grace are allowed before the 1 per cent is added. A second penalty of an equal amount will be added on November 2 and a third of 1 per cent on November 16. On December 2 a fourth of 3 per cent is enforced, raising the extra charge on 1938 taxes not paid by that date to 6 per cent.

Eastern Canada buys Seven Million Pounds of B.C. Salmon

The Industrial East buys more than 7,200,000 lbs. of canned salmon from British Columbia. One of the most important units in this market is the Automotive Industry with 130,000 people dependent upon it, and eating their share of good things!

In addition to canned salmon, British Columbia ships more than half a million cases of fruit to the East, more than 180 million feet of lumber, many thousands of tons of lead and zinc, as well as large orders of other goods.

Consider the $40,000,000 the Industrial East spends annually in the Prairie Provinces for foodstuffs of all kinds. Does that money stay in the Prairie Provinces? No, a part of it keeps moving Westward to purchase in British Columbia its fruit, lumber, canned salmon, manufactures and many other things as well.

This direct and indirect business relationship with the Industrial East is a stabilizing factor in British Columbia's domestic commerce. Whatever your occupation, you benefit from these large purchases which help keep the wheels moving in almost every type of manufacturing and distributing enterprise.

The purchasing power of the Automotive Industry is felt right across the Dominion. It quickens the movement of domestic trade, creates provincial purchasing power, sustains payrolls. Inter-provincial business of this kind is the foundation of Canada's economic stability, and therefore important to every home in British Columbia.

CRITIC CRITICIZED

To the Editor:—Mr. Heskin states: "As a matter of fact, I cannot see much difference between Fascists and 'Reds'; they seem to be about the same." If I saw a policeman and a burglar at death grips and failed to grasp any meaning behind such a struggle, I would be like Mr. Heskin; to me they'd be "about the same."

A Fascist victory in Spain (desired not only by Hitler and Mussolini, but by powerful British interests as well) would force Spain back to prewar conditions of merciless exploitation, ignorance, bull fights and poverty, and where, we are told, absentee landlords owned huge estates and lived callously, wastefully and luxuriously.

A republican ("Red") Spain, on the other hand, would mean strong labor organization, with the natural result of a wider and freer education and socialized production and distribution of life's requirements. This would be progress as we see it in Sweden and New Zealand today, where Fascism is practically unknown.

LEFT THE ARMY WITH RHEUMATISM

Now Fit to Join Again

Twenty years ago, he left the army, constipated and rheumatic. Today, he is fit and nimble—a merry, romping granddad, 61 years young.

"I came out of the army with rheumatism," he writes. "It was especially bad in my feet. I started taking Kruschen Salts, and in a few months I found relief from my rheumatism. I became nimble on my feet. Now, at 61—weighing 168—I am cheerful, energetic and always ready to play with my grandchildren."

F. E. B.
 Many people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually, they adopt the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid every day of waste matter from the system. The result is renewed health and vigor. Ailments due to a clogged system vanish, youth returns, and life becomes really worth living. (Adv.)

enormous quantities on the market and upset our crazy applecart.

As gold is itself the standard, this quotation merely means that the printing presses have been working efficiently and our paper money has been nearly doubled in quantity, which means the actual value of savings has been depreciated by nearly 50 per cent, in addition money now earns much less interest than formerly because of its increased quantity.

Efficient mass production may very shortly force a new, more humane, more just method of distribution for the world's abundance (the safe way to lasting prosperity and peace) and the financial jugglers who now bal-

Knights of Columbus

A well-attended meeting of the Local Council 1256, Knights of Columbus, was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Government Street, with Grand Knight George E. MacDonald in the chair.

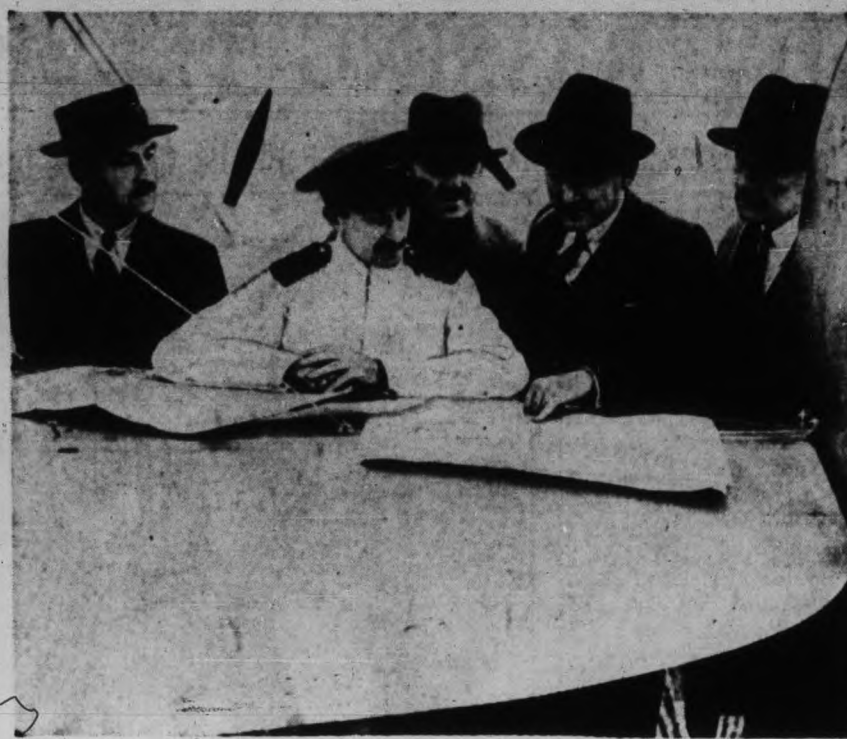

Tentative plans for renovating several rooms in the premises were discussed and the matter was referred to the executive with power to have the work done immediately.

The organization decided to embark upon an ambitious program of activities for the coming season which will include socials, debates and addresses.

A debate, arranged by Peter G. Hartnell, chairman of the debating committee, was presented on the subject of retention of the street railway system. Those taking part were E. Leonard, Arthur Leonard, W. Stewart, W. Mulcahy, Arthur Cownden Sr., and Mr. Hartnell. The negative, led by Mr. Leonard and supporting the plea of buses was successful.

The next meeting of the order will take place on October 11 when Leo M. Sweeney of Vancouver will speak on his recent travels in Australia and New Zealand.

SUMMER RESORT UNDER WATER—Beneath the storm-created lake in the airview, lies a good part of what was West Hampton, L.I., one of New York's smart summer colonies. From an ocean whipped to fury by the screaming hurricane that hit the Atlantic seaboard, a huge tidal wave suddenly welled up and rushed across the town, crushing some houses, setting others adrift, as pictured here. Many were drowned.

CHURCH ATTITUDE ON WAR STATED

TORONTO (CP)—The eighth General Council of the United Church of Canada moved yesterday to clarify the right of the church's members to exercise their individual judgment and action in case of war. It enunciated the church's policy toward war after a debate on the report of the committee of international relationships.

As amended, the report says: "Some may sincerely hold that obedience to the Divine command leads them to abstain from participation in any war, some that it forbids them to participate in unjust wars, some that in the present unredempted state of the world the state has the duty under God to use force when law and order are threatened or to vindicate an essential Christian principle, for example, to defend victims of wanton aggression or secure freedom for the oppressed, and the church recognizes the conscientious right and action of each and all."

The council reaffirmed the church's conviction that war is contrary to the mind of Christ.

The committee said that neither the state nor any other power had the right to compel a person to engage in what his conscience declared to be a sinful act.

"Should our church lend its support and give sanction to the status of all who object to military service?" asked Rev. R. C. Copeland of London, Ont.

Dr. A. M. Sanford of Vancouver said it was not possible to give sanction to those who conscientiously objected to participation in war without also giving approval to those who were prepared to fight for King and country.

"I am an Englishman and I happen to be a conscientious objector, but in the last war I was a congregationalist in England," said Tom Edwards, a lay delegate from Vancouver. "The only church recognized by the authorities was the Quakers and I got no protection from my church."

Capitol Shows Kyne Classic

"Valley of the Giants" Features New and Handsome Leading Man

"Valley of the Giants," based on the famous Peter B. Kyne novel, opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The Kyne saga of the redwood forests has been pictured twice before—in the days before the screen learned to talk. Milton Sills and Wally Reid were the stars, and they have a worthy successor in young Wayne Morris, who is probably closer to the author's conception of the hero than either of the former stars. He is to the very life, the big, lusty—and finely altruistic—young lumberman who fights so valiantly to prevent the despoliation of his beloved redwood forests. Comparatively a newcomer to Hollywood's list of ranking star names, Morris, who won his laurels in "Kid Galahad," gives a magnificent performance, which is backed up by the fine work of an outstanding cast.

Fine Cast at The Dominion

Edward G. Robinson, W. Barrie and O. Kruger in "I Am the Law"

Edward G. Robinson, one of Hollywood's most talented actors, carries the leading role in a new picture, "I Am the Law," which opened at the Dominion Theatre today and attracted a large audience for its first showing.

Robinson is said to be superb in this picture, and Otto Kruger contributes a smooth, faultless performance.

Barbara O'Neil, as the star's tolerant spouse, is richly sympathetic. John Beal, seen as Kruger's unsuspecting son who becomes Robinson's aide, deserves congratulations for his excellent handling of emotional scenes, and Wendy Barrie, as Kruger's worldly-wise aide and sweetheart, plays a difficult role with deftness.

"I Am the Law" holds special appeal for young and old, presenting an absorbing melodrama crammed with thrilling entertainment.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The world's most famous night club is brought to the screen for the first time in Paramount's "Cocoanut Grove," the new film that is now at the Oak Bay Theatre. The cast is headed by Fred MacMurray and Harriet Hilliard, aided and abetted by the antics of the Yacht Club Boys, Ben Blue, Rufe Davis and Harry Owens and his Royal Hawaiian Orchestra.

The first dental college in this country was built in Baltimore, in 1839.

"Damaged Goods" Coming Monday

Eugene Brieux, author of "Damaged Goods," has been hailed by the world's foremost dramatic critics as the greatest writer France has ever produced. No writer has ever wielded his pen more earnestly in the service of mankind.

The screen version of "Damaged Goods" was adapted for talking pictures by Upton Sinclair, who also wrote the novelization of the play. By special permission of the author, he wrote the screen adaptation of "Damaged Goods," which will be the featured attraction at the Plaza next Monday.

Plaza Shows New Picture

Theatre Changes Program to Open Today With "Girl Loves Boy"

Sparkling with youth, love and laughter, but tinged with suspense that builds to a surprise climax, "Girl Loves Boy," a new picture which opened today at the Plaza Theatre, with Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker, the brilliant young romantic team, in the star roles. The picture, produced by B. F. Zeidman for Grand National, is the fourth consecutive production in which these popular youngsters have appeared as a team. Those who recall them in M.G.M.'s "Ah, Wilderness," again with Wallace Beery in "Old Hunch," and more recently in the Zeidman Grand National feature "Sins of Children," will find them more lovable than ever in "Girl Loves Boy."

With a typical American town as its background, the story unfolded by "Girl Loves Boy" deals with a young collegian, whose studies terminate abruptly, when he becomes ensnared by a pretty woman.

Musical Comedy Atlas Feature

Huge, spectacular sets are no novelty in Hollywood.

But it was a novelty when an elaborate set was built in duplicate for "Cowboy From Brooklyn," Warner Bros. new musical comedy which opens today at the Atlas Theatre. Film history contains no record of a similar occurrence.

The set in question was a colorful dude ranch. One set, the only complete working ranch in the industry, was constructed at the Warner Bros. ranch at Calabasas in the San Fernando Valley.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Piquant Ann Rutherford, the leading lady of Republic's "Public Cowboy No. 1," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is descended from 17th century pirates. She plays opposite melodramatic Gene Autry in this thrilling tale of the western plains.

Famous People of the Stage
WALTER HAMPDEN AND KATHARINE CORNELL

Among the leading "people of the stage" of the present day are Walter Hampden and Katharine Cornell.

Hampden has been called "the greatest American actor in Shakespearean plays since Edwin Booth. Good claims may be made for others, but certainly Hampden has done fine work in "Macbeth," "Hamlet" and "The Merchant of Venice."

Walter Hampden in 1926

Hampden also has appeared in plays of other kinds. The play for which he is best known is "Cyrano de Bergerac." In one week in 1924, people in Philadelphia paid $37,000 to watch him in this production. Two years ago, the following item appeared in the New York Times:

"Theatrical history last evening recorded a new milestone in the careers of Walter Hampden and Katharine Cornell. The actor-manager gave his thousandth performance in the title role. When the curtain descended, cheers and cries of 'Bravo!' split the air."

To appear a thousand times in one play is a record for any man. Hampden is the son of a lawyer, and his full name is Walter Hampden Dougherty. He was born in Brooklyn in 1879.

Before the "Barretts of Wimpole Street" was produced as a talking moving picture, Katharine Cornell made it famous. She played in it for a year at a New York theatre, then took her company on a tour of many cities. She took the part of Elizabeth Barrett.

Many persons in Detroit and Buffalo remember Katharine Cornell when she first was winning fame as a member of a stock company, she appeared in such plays as "The Gypsy Trail," "Daybreak" and "Broken Threads."

In her tours, Miss Cornell has made it a point to go where she promises, and always to be on time. On Christmas Day, 1933, however, she was unable to get to Seattle on time. Blizzards and snowdrifts kept her train from reaching the city until 11.30 that night.

At the station platform, a man met her and said, "Come quickly! The crowd is still waiting at the theatre!"

"It will take an hour to get the sets to the theatre, and make them ready," replied the actress. "That's all right," said the man. "They'll wait an hour longer."

Perhaps no other play, scheduled for evening, has been given so late as the one Katharine Cornell appeared in that night. The curtain rose at 1.05 a.m., and went down at 4 in the morning. It was dark when the audience left the theatre, but dawn was not many hours away.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, October 1, 1938

Adverse planetary aspects rule today, according to astrology. As the sun now forms its opposition to Saturn there will be a period of weighing and balancing human aims and achievements. The planetary government inclines dwellers on the earth to be critical, apprehensive and fault-finding.

This month should be given to careful preparation for the most difficult economic and domestic problems. Many tests of character may be expected.

This is an inauspicious date for seeking favor and especially hazardous for women. Efforts to obtain advancement should be postponed.

Persons engaged in commercial enterprises should be careful as the week ends. There may be threatening international complications.

Illness due to nervous strain is forecast and an increase of rheumatic ailments is indicated. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of perplexities. Love affairs should be avoided; deceit will wreck many a romance.

Children born on this day probably will be imaginative and gifted. These subjects of Libra usually are studious and many are psychic.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widower, a teacher by profession, 58 years old, and desperately in love with a widow of 28 who is a cook with very little education. I have no children, but she has a little girl 10 years old of whom I am very fond and who is fond of me. What would you think of a matrimonial venture like this?
WORRIED.

Answer: It is an extra-hazardous risk, but by no means a foredoomed failure. Of course, 30 years is too much difference in age between a man and his wife, but if a woman has tact and appreciation and a genuine affection for the man she can bridge these years over and they can live very happily together. Especially is this the case when the man has material advantages that he can give his wife, such as a better social position and a more comfortable living than she has had.

Another difficulty in your way is that this woman will not be able to be an intellectual companion to you, but many men do not care for that, anyway. They want a wife who is a good housekeeper and home-maker and who is a cheerful gossip about small matters, and that suffices.

So in deciding this matter try to find out what you really need in a wife, and whether just being made comfortable or congeniality is the more important to you.

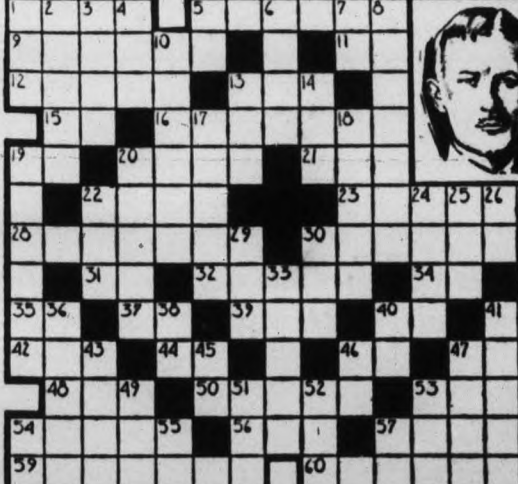

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have a wonderful neighbor whose husband is running around with a young woman. She thinks he goes to his lodge at night, but I meet him out with the girl. Shall I tell my friend that her husband is unfaithful to her?
ANXIOUS.

Answer: No. Why should you bring sorrow to her before its time? She is bound to find out about it soon enough. Let her enjoy her happiness as long as she can.

And, perhaps, she knows and is saving her face by keeping up a brave pretence of ignorance. No woman is so stupid that she does not know when her husband has ceased to care for her and is interested in some other woman.

DOROTHY DIX.

ROUGH RIDER POLITICIAN—Chapped and spurred cowboy of the early Cariboo days was F. W. Zeigler before he settled down in Victoria and joined the fire department. Now retired, with politics his hobby, he is pictured on a return to the interior, not to mount a saddle but to take part in Conservative convention at Kamloops.

What Will Happen Now?

Observers are observing, and forecasters are forecasting as Europe teeters from crisis to crisis. Now that Hitler appears to have won his fight for the Sudeten region of Czechoslovakia, what's your guess as to what's going to happen?

Here are some vital questions. Note down your answers, clip out this quiz, and a year from now take it out of that bureau drawer and see how good a guesser you've been.

1. Will all of Czechoslovakia have been sacrificed to the German expansion southward and eastward?

2. Will Hungary be a completely independent nation or will it have become a part of "Greater Germany"?

3. Will Poland have followed the German lead and annexed Czechoslovakian areas with large Polish populations?

4. Will the Rome-Berlin axis and the link between Mussolini and Hitler be stronger or weaker than today?

5. Will the chief countries of Europe be at war and will the United States be involved?

6. Will Russia have taken an active hand in mid-European affairs, and will the Soviets be at war either in Asia or Europe?

7. Will the war in Spain be over, and will a Fascist government rule Spain?

8. Will any other of the minor countries of mid-Europe have been pulled into the Rome-Berlin axis?

9. Will Great Britain have continued to "knuckle" before the threats of dictators of totalitarian countries?

10. Will the French-British entente still be in effect?

The black area in the map above shows mighty pre-war Germany. In these maps letters indicate countries as follows: G—Germany, F—France, A—Austria, H—Hungary, C—Czechoslovakia, P—Poland.

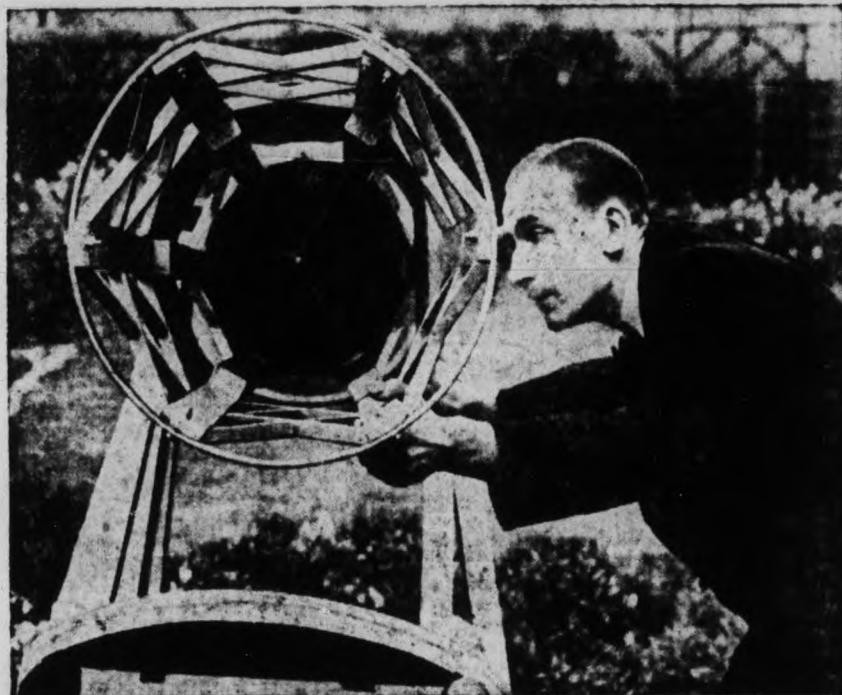

Post-war treaties dismembered Germany and the victorious Allies parceled out much of the country at Versailles and subsequently. This is what was left.

With the rise of Nazism and the ascendancy of Hitler, Germany began to expand. The Saar valley was regained to the west and the swastika hoisted over Austria with this result . . .

LONDON CROWD CHEERS NEWS OF PEACE—With the sword of war hanging for days over them by a mere thread, worried Britons thronged the streets as members of Parliament heard Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain make his tragic report of futile efforts to meet the "unreasonable" demands of Adolf Hitler. But their worried faces broke into smiles of joy and they cheered lustily when word came that the British Premier's speech had been interrupted by news of a last-minute agreement for a four-power peace parley.

PAINS AND PERSEVERANCE REWARDED—Three years' work is represented in this reflecting telescope built by Reginald Brooks, a dental mechanic of London, England, in his spare time. It is believed to be the largest instrument of its kind ever constructed by an amateur astronomer with a magnifying power of 500. Simple as it seems, the grinding of the lenses and mirror requires wearisome hours of the most exacting kind of labor. Mr. Brooks plans now to build himself a backyard observatory to house his telescope.

MASARYK'S DREAM FADES—This picture comes just as sections of Czechoslovakia are being broken off and handed over to Germany. Czech soldiers place wreaths on the tomb of Thomas Masaryk in Prague on the first anniversary of the death of the Czech state's father.

IN HURRICANE'S PATH—The tropic-born gale that swept the northeastern United States wrought enormous havoc. In this photo one of the whimsies of the hurricane is pictured at exclusive West Hampton. The wind tore out part of the bridge, creating a wide breach into which the auto tumbled nose first.

PEACE MISSION BEFORE POPE—These pilgrims received in audience by the Pontiff are from Manchukuo, a land of strife, on whose borders the lengthy war between Japan and China drags along.

WATERFRONT WRECKAGE—New London, Conn., one of the chief sufferers from the ruinous Atlantic seaboard storm. More than $3,000,000 in damage was done by a wind-fanned fire that destroyed fifteen buildings in the business section. Virtually all wharves were badly damaged and much shipping. This waterfront airview shows docks, made of heavy logs smashed into match-sticks, while large vessels nearby are either sunk or tossed on the shore.

TYPICALLY BRITISH—Miss Barbara Kershaw, 25-year-old mannequin from the West Riding of Yorkshire, England, now working in a London fashion house, has had her head selected as the model for a new air raid precautions poster for the Women's Volunteer Service. This follows the announcement that the poster which had been awarded a prize was believed to contain a representation of the head of a German woman model, whose identity is unknown. Two thousand photographs were scanned to find the typically British head of beautiful Miss Kershaw. Above photograph shows Miss Barbara Kershaw, the new poster model, with a topical poster in the background.

USE TRUCK TO BLOCK HIGHWAY—At Schwaderbach, previously the scene of armed fighting between Nazis and Czech gendarmes, Nazi Sudetens fleeing into Germany overturned a truck on a road, as pictured in the radiophoto above, to obstruct pursuit by Czech army patrols guarding the border under martial law.
